Bell Boy in a San Francisco Hotel Views McNamara in Los Angeles Prison and Declares That He Is the Man "Bryce"

Three Californians Are Said to Be Under Surveillance of Detectives and Their Arrests Are Expected to Take Place Now at Probably Any Hour

MRS. D. H. INGERSOLL RETURNS HOME

BELL BOY IDENTIFIES M'NAMARA AS 'BRYCE'

LOS ANGELES, April 29.—Schmidt and Caplan, the three Trebor McCachren, a bellboy employed last September at the Hotel Argonaut in San Francisco, today identified James B. McNamara among a number of prisoners at the county jail as the "J. B. Bryce" who registered at the Argonaut at that time, together with Bryce.

LOS ANGELES, April 29.—Practically all of the statements made by Attorney Hilton with reference to his conference with Ortie E. McManigal at the county jail were flatly denied a short time later by George Gallagher, the jailer, and Oscar Norell, the turnkey, who took McManigal from his cell, and were present during the interview. According to Gallagher and Norell, McManigal made but one statement to Hilton during the conference, which was:

"I don't want an attorney. I don't want to see you."

McManigal is said to have turned on his heel and walked away from Hilton.

In order to throw final light on the conflicting statements regarding the conference between Hilton and McManigal, the Associated Press sent a note to McManigal in his cell, asking him regarding the matter. The prisoner sent back the following answer:

"I refuse to talk to anyone, Judge Hilton and all.

(Signed) "O. E. McMANIGAL."

Hilton Gives Another Version of His Interview

LOS ANGELES, April 29.—Ortie E. McManigal who is alleged to have made a complete confession in the dynamiting case, made another change of front today, according to Attorney O. N. Hilton, who talked with McManigal at 10 o'clock today. Hilton said afterward that McManigal admitted that he had made a statement to the district attorney, and gave reasons for doing so, which Hilton said were eminently satisfactory to the defense.

McManigal, according to Hilton, said nothing to him about not wanting to see any one connected with the defense, and then freely admitted that he had lied when he declared last Thursday to the attorney in the presence of witnesses, that he had not made a confession and did not intend to make one.

McManigal's refusal to see Hilton's associate, Job Harriman, yesterday and the district attorney's declaration that McManigal would see none of the attorneys connected with the defense, were

HUNDREDS SLAIN AT CANTON

Revolutionists Cut Down by the Soldiers in Street Battle; Gen. Chung Killed

Taotai Li Assassinated; Loyalty of Troops Doubtful; Americans in Danger

HONG KONG, April 28.—The Taotai of Canton, who has been assassinated by the rebels, who are again strong, the gates of the city have been closed. The loyalty of the troops is doubted and this fear has caused much excitement among the peaceful inhabitants of Canton. Refugees arriving here confirm earlier reports of the rising at Canton, which appears to have been instigated by anti-Manchus, who went to that city from Macao and Hong Kong and spread the revolutionary propaganda among the troops at the time when they were nursing several grievances.

Hundreds of rebels have been killed or wounded in the fighting, which began with the attack on the viceroys' palace on Thursday. Brigadier General Chung was mortally wounded while attempting to suppress the revolt and died yesterday.

Two British torpedo boat destroyers have been sent to Canton from here. Two British torpedo boats have been sent from this city to Canton. It is stated that the movement was fomented by anti-Manchus from Hong Kong and Macao.

Mr. Babcock of Chicago has returned from Canton. He found the gates there open and entered the city for some distance. There was still an air of suppressed excitement.

Orders were issued to suspend navigation on the river after the outbreak, but the British consul insisted that the vessels in Canton be permitted to take away tourists there. This request was granted and the vessels were packed with persons desiring to flee the city.

Brigadier General Chung died of wounds received in the fighting with the revolutionists. The rebels sustained a heavy loss in a battle with the troops in the Chong Yuen bridge.

Trouble in Canton had been anticipated for days. The leader of the disturbance was arrested and his followers attacked the yamen. They set fire to the building, but while the flames were raging the viceroys and his family escaped by tearing down a rear wall.

The United States gunboat Wilmington sailed today from Hong Kong for Canton to render any assistance necessary to American citizens on account of the disturbed conditions of the latter place.

AMERICANS IN DANGER.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Americans and foreigners in Canton are believed to be in danger, United States Consul Bergholz in Canton has cabled the State Department. He has telegraphed the senior naval officer in Hong Kong, and if the situation should prove serious a United States warship will proceed to Canton.

Teachers' Excursion Cars Leave Track and Take Fire; Score Mangled

Doctors Being Rushed From Many Points to Scene of Disaster

EASTON, Pa., April 29.—An excursion train from Utica and Syracuse, N. Y., on its way to Washington, D. C., was wrecked at Martins Creek, N. J., eight miles north of this city, this afternoon. There are conflicting reports regarding the killed, but the estimate is 15 dead and forty injured. Three cars were burned.

The train came down as far as Stroudsburg on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, and was there transferred to the Pennsylvania line. While the train was passing Martins Creek going at the rate of fifty miles an hour the cars left the track.

Almost immediately the cars took fire. There being no means to check the flames, the wreckage burned fiercely. Every physician for miles around was summoned, and they hurried to the scene on special trains and in automobiles.

Arrangements are being made to bring the injured to hospitals in this city. Twenty-five persons have been taken from the wrecked cars and are being taken to report. Many more are said to be dead. The train was a school teachers' excursion from Utica, N. Y., to Atlantic City.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Vice-President Sherman was not on board the wrecked train as at first reported, according to his secretary here. The Vice-President is in Utica.

The Utica teachers who were aboard the train were to have been entertained when they reached Washington by the Vice-President and Mrs. Sherman.

NEW YORK, April 29.—The division superintendent's office of the Lackawanna in Hoboken had no details of the accident and only second-hand advice. The report received was that a special train carrying a delegation of school teachers had been wrecked on the tracks of the Pennsylvania railway line with a loss of fifteen lives or more.

Sends $10 Bill to the Loeb 'Conscience Fund'

NEW YORK, April 29.—William Loeb, collector of the port of New York, has received from Toledo, Ohio, a $10 bill with an anonymous letter, which reads: "Enclosed find $10. Have doubt about owing the government anything, but will give you the benefit of the doubt." The money will go to the "conscience fund."

JACKSON SUIT FAILS NOMINATION IS LEGAL

MAYOR FRANK K. MOTT, whose name will remain on the ballot in spite of the efforts of his political foes to keep his name off the ticket.

DECISION IN FAVOR OF MAYOR

Judge Ogden Rules There Is No Merit in Suit Against Official

Attempt to Defeat Candidate Through the Courts Proves a Failure

Holding that it was not within his judicial province to go behind the records of the municipal primaries at which Mayor Frank K. Mott was renominated for the office he holds, Judge Frank B. Ogden announced this afternoon at 1:20 o'clock from the bench of Department 6 of the Superior Court that the Mayor was entitled to a place upon the official ballot to be voted at the city election May 9.

The judge stated that in view of the fact that this afternoon was a half-holiday he could not formally render his decision in the premises, but that he would read his conclusions for the information of all parties concerned and formally sign and file his opinion Monday morning.

LEGALLY NOMINATED.

According to Judge Ogden's conclusions Mayor Mott was legally nominated for the office of his candidacy and that it will be the official duty of City Clerk Frank R. Thompson to give his name its proper place upon the ballot for the municipal election. On this ground the Court sustains the City Clerk's demurrer to the petition filed by Attorney Harry C. Wuerth for an order restraining the clerk from entering the mayor's name upon the ballot, and by this decision the efforts of Dr. F. F. Jackson, through the former secretary of the Greater Oakland Charter Convention, to get on the ballot, fails of its own weight. Judge Ogden holds that according to the records the verification deputies who circulated Mayor Mott's nomination petition were legally nominated.

United Properties Co. Takes Richmond Line

Vice President W. L. Alberger of the Oakland Traction Company, who was chosen this week to assume the management of the lines of the Traction Company and the Key Route system, to succeed W. F. Kelly, whose resignation takes effect on Monday, May 1, announced today that the East Shore Suburban Electric railroad was taken over by the United Properties Company of California this morning. The East Shore line was constructed by its projectors from the county line, the then northern terminal of the Oakland Traction Company's San Pablo avenue railroad, to Richmond. For a time it was operated as an independent road between the two points named. Subsequently arrangements were made with the Oakland Traction Company to extend the service to Seventh street and Broadway, its cars using the San Pablo avenue and Broadway tracks of the Traction Company between that point and the county line.

It was generally understood at that time that the East Shore Suburban would be merged into the Oakland Traction and Key Route systems if the merger had not then actually taken place. Today's announcement proves that the popular understanding was not at fault. Henceforth the East Shore Suburban will figure in the general time schedule of the electric railway system of the United Properties Company under Alberger's direct management.

ANNOUNCE EXTENSION.

Some time ago it was announced the East Shore Suburban would be extended into the San Ramon valley, to Walnut Creek, and possibly to Antioch and Stockton. Now that the final act of the transfer to the United Properties Company has been closed the probability is that the extension of the line north will be carried on as part of the general plans of the company for the expansion of the Key Route system.

At a meeting held today the following directors of East Shore Suburban were elected under the new ownership: W. S. Rheem, F. M. Smith, Gavin McNabb, W. R. Alberger and F. M. Frost. The new officers of the company are W. S. Rheem, president; F. M. Smith and W. R. Alberger, vice-presidents, and S. J. Taylor, secretary and treasurer.

Railway Station Robbers Are Captured by Posse

PASO ROBLES, April 29.—The Southern Pacific passenger depot in this city was entered late last night by two masked men who held up Night Agent Wardwell and compelled him to hand over his cash, amounting to $42. Wardwell telephoned news of the robbery to Deputy Sheriff Pierce and posse soon were in pursuit of the robbers, who were encountered and captured by Sheriff Younglove and several deputies near the Salinas river at daylight today. They were brought here and identified by Agent Wardwell.

2 Vessels Reported Lost Off the Coast of Spain

LONDON, April 29.—The Lloyd's agent at Corubian, Spain, reported today that two steamships have been lost off Cape

Vilano, a promontory at the northwestern extremity of the Spanish peninsula. One of them is the Italian ship F. S. Clampe, which was bound from Penarth, Wales, for Genoa, with a cargo of coal. The identity of the other ship is not known. Dispatches from Madrid last night told briefly of the wrecking of a big English steamship at Corubian. No details have as yet been received here, nor is it known whether there was any loss of life. The F. S. Clampe was a boat of about 2500 tons.

C. W. Cobb to Be Named Aid to Attorney-General

WASHINGTON, April 29.—It was announced unofficially today that C. W. Cobb of San Francisco would be appointed assistant attorney general for the Interior Department, succeeding Oscar Lawler of Los Angeles, who resigned recently. Cobb was a former law partner of Francis J. Heney.

THE MAN WITH A TOUPEE

Might Have Had a Good Head of Hair.

The man who wears a toupee does not like it, but has the courage of his convictions. Nature never intended that the top of the head should be left entirely without protection. A bald head is very susceptible to contraction of colds and neuralgia. Wearing an artificial top piece counteracts this tendency, and, aside from the improvement in the personal appearance, is amply justified. How much better it would have been had the man, now chronically bald and wearing a toupee, but realized earlier in life the approaching danger and devoted a little regular attention to his hair, which would have saved it. There is a remedy which will absolutely prevent baldness. Loss of hair in nine cases out of ten is unnecessary, being due to dandruff and the germ that causes it. This germ must be destroyed and the accumulation of dandruff checked. Then the hair will not fall out, but instead will grow naturally and luxuriantly. Newbro's Herpicide is the remedy, regular application of which will do this. It has long been known as the original remedy that kills the dandruff germ and is absolutely dependable. So, reliable is this preparation that all druggists now sell the one dollar size bottles of Herpicide with a binding guarantee to refund money if unsatisfactory. Herpicide applications may always be obtained at the better barber shops and hair dressing parlors. Anyone desiring to try Newbro's Herpicide before purchasing a large bottle will receive a nice sample and booklet by sending 10c in postage or silver to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich.

MEETING IS BOOST FOR FREDERICKSON

Union Men Praise Candidate for His Efforts in Cause.

One of the largest political meetings ever held in the annexed district of Oakland was that of the Representation Club at Carpenters' Hall, Fruitvale, Thursday night. The meeting was testimonial to the candidacy of P. C. Frederickson for Commissioner No. 4, and the enthusiasm displayed by the 250 or more men present, the majority of whom were union men, showed the strength of organized labor in backing Frederickson. Lyman Hartford, one of the principal speakers of the evening, told of the victory at the primary election on April 18, when Frederickson was given the nomination, thus giving the annexed district representation in the city's civic government. C. Noyes, a member of the local carpenters' union, told with what enthusiasm the union men were backing the popular candidate for Commissioner No. 4, and why.

STIRRING SPEECHES.

Harry Thornally and John Thornally, members of the machinists' union, made stirring speeches in favor of Frederickson.

James Lahey of Latham Terrace said that he believed the annexed district should have a representative, and that said representative should be a business man, just such a man as P. C. Frederickson, and that he and his associates would do all in their power to elect their man at the polls.

Others who made enthusiastic speeches in Frederickson's behalf were Charles Dickens of the railroad trainmen, Anton Magul of the barbers' union, Geo. Zimmerman of the metal workers' union, Edward Davis of the electricians' union, R. Hillman, an electrical worker, and H. Miller of the carpenters' union.

DREAM OF INSTITUTIONAL CHURCH FADES AWAY

CHICAGO, April 29.—Denial of co-operation from millionaire steel mill owners in the promotion of an institutional church that he dreamed of as the ultimate solution of the industrial problem in the United States was yesterday assigned as the reason of the withdrawal of Rev. Frederick E. Hopkins from the Congressional church at Gary. Rev. Mr. Hopkins outlined the plan by which he hoped to bring about the solution of the industrial problem. "We don't want them here," he said, referring to capitalists, "but now that they are here it is up to us to help them attain a high degree of citizenship."

not referred to in the conversation between Hilton and McManigal today.

"I talked to him for fifteen minutes," said Hilton, "and during that time he gave me his reasons and detailed his impelling motive for giving the district attorney the statement he made day before yesterday, half an hour after he told me that he would make no such statement. If McManigal told the district attorney that he would see no one connected with the defense, then he has changed his mind about the matter."

"All the main facts are in our possession and you may say this: 'Whatever has been said to the district attorney will not hurt the defense in view of the statement McManigal has made to me today.'"

"Does that mean that McManigal has not turned state's evidence?"

"I have not said so," replied Hilton. "I cannot be more explicit, but I tell you that McManigal's explanation of why he lied to us Thursday and made a statement to the district attorney is eminently satisfactory to us."

Attorney Hilton came from his winter home at Pomona today and went immediately to the county jail. He saw John McNamara first. Then, ignoring Attorney Harriman's experience of yesterday when the prisoner refused to see him, he asked that McManigal be brought down from his cell to the barred conference room on the first floor of the prison.

McManigal in Conference

McManigal was brought down at once by Sheriff Hammel, and nothing was said relative to District Attorney Frederick's assertion that the prisoner would receive none of the attorneys for the defense.

"I did not ask him about his declaration to Harriman yesterday, that he would not consult any of us—Harriman, Clarence Darrow or myself," said Hilton. "McManigal was willing to talk and gave me all the main points of his statement to the district attorney and why he made them. That was all I wanted."

Attorney Hilton declined positively even to intimate what these "main points" were.

MEN ARE CALM IN FACE OF SERIOUS ACCUSATIONS

LOS ANGELES, April 29.—Quietly and calmly awaiting future developments, John J. McNamara, secretary of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, and his brother, James B. McNamara, union iron worker and printer, charged with a series of murders by dynamite, are obeying to the letter the instructions of their attorneys and refuse interviews to all other persons.

This course of silence has been strictly adhered to, excepting in the case of a few union labor men whom John McNamara has seen and talked to in the jail.

Men Appear to Be Calm

Judging from the reports of the officers in whose charge the prisoners are, none of the men is at all nervous, because of the charges they must face soon before a judge and jury. All, including Ortie McManigal, the so-called Harry Orchard of the case, are said to be possessed of good appetites and to sleep soundly. They pass their time as their individual preferences dictate, by reading, writing, smoking and an occasional game of solitaire at cards.

When the legal forces which are to engage in the battle over the men are all gathered here, which they are expected to be in a few days, the first court step in the case will be taken. This will be the formal arraignment.

So far as announced the only attorneys retained by the defense are Job Harriman of Los Angeles, O. N. Hilton of Denver and Clarence Darrow of Chicago, the last named as chief counsel. Harriman is the only one in this city at present. Hilton is at his winter home in Pomona, Cal., and Darrow is on the way from Chicago, both being expected here Monday.

Nothing more definite regarding the line of defense has been stated than that it will try to prove that it was gas which caused the explosion in the Times building here, but the plans will be outlined more in detail on the assembling of the attorneys next week.

Although District Attorney Fredericks is busy preparing for the prosecution, his work probably will gain an impetus by the expected arrival here Monday of his assistant, W. Joseph Ford, from Indianapolis. It is thought that Ford will bring with him considerable documentary evidence against the men, possibly a copy of the alleged Chicago confession of McManigal.

Although Fredericks declares there is absolutely no need for a change of venue, there continues to be much public discussion of the matter. The local newspapers refer to the subject frequently, and various other Southern California counties have been mentioned as likely places for the trial.

Californians Are Watched

There is considerable speculation regarding the possible arrest of others in connection with the Los Angeles dynamite cases, as it has been announced that the authorities have under surveillance three Californians, one of whom, it is said, lives in Los Angeles and the other two in San Francisco.

Union men are restrained in their remarks about the alleged dynamiters, much of their attention being taken just at present with other local matters, such as the trials of a number of men on the charge of violating the city's picketing ordinance. They content themselves by saying that they will not let the accused men lack any physical comforts.

Sees McNamara With Prisoners and Points Him Out as Bryce

LOS ANGELES, April 29.—Another link in the chain of evidence against James B. McNamara was forged today by his further identification as the man who lived in San Francisco under the name of J. B. Bryce, and who is charged with the actual dynamiting of the Times plant here.

Trebor McCachren is said today to have identified McNamara positively as Bryce. McCachren was a bellboy at the Hotel Argonaut, in San Francisco, where the man known as Bryce lived the latter part of last September, just prior to the Times explosion on October 1, after leaving the lodging house of Mrs. D. H. Ingersoll.

McCachren was brought here at the instance of the district attorney. Shortly after his arrival he was taken to the jail by an attaché of the district attorney's office. Several prisoners were brought before him, among them being James McNamara. As soon as McCachren's eyes rested upon him he is said to have pointed McNamara out as the one he had known as Bryce. McNamara is said to have realized the reason for his being paraded through the jail office and to have glanced toward McCachren. Simultaneously with the arrival of McCachren was that of two registers of the Hotel Argonaut, upon which McNamara is alleged to have written the name of "J. B. Bryce" and David C. Caplan and "Cocky" Schmidt are said to have inscribed their signatures. The reason for the bringing of the registers here is supposed to be a desire to compare the writing credited to McNamara with samples of his handwriting to be obtained by the district attorney.

James McNamara today received his first visitor, aside from his attorneys, since he arrived in Los Angeles. This visitor was J. E. Timmons, Los Angeles representative of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, of which John J. McNamara is secretary.

At the conclusion of the brief meeting Timmons said that he had called only to express his sympathy with the accused and to offer him any aid possible. He left the jail with a list of clothing desired by McNamara.

Asked if either of the McNamara's had expressed any feeling toward the attitude credited to Ortie McManigal and toward his alleged confession, Timmons answered that he had not questioned them on that subject.

PLACE OF TRIAL UNCERTAIN.

Just when the men will be arraigned still is a matter of conjecture, as also is the identity of the judge who will preside at the trials. Judge Walter Bordwell, presiding judge of this county, ended his tenure as presiding judge today and will be succeeded Monday by Judge George H. Hutton. Judge Bordwell will not transfer the cases to any other department himself, and the trials will be heard before him, therefore, unless Judge Hutton, in whose power it will be to take such an action, decides to transfer them.

Many Attempt to See Men Accused of Dynamiting

LOS ANGELES, April 29.—The presence of the alleged dynamiters in the county jail causes many curious persons constantly to seek that part of the city in the hope of catching sight of the accused men.

Numerous requests are made at the office of Sheriff Hammel for permission to see the men, but it is suspected that the visitors wish to catch a glimpse of the prisoners, and not to see the jail, the requests are refused except where one can prove legitimate business. Sheriff Hammel is at this time on his declaration that the incarceration of the trio is not to be a "public holiday."

Several girls, still in short dresses, asked for permission to go into the jail, and when they were refused, loitered near the entrance until they saw a lawyer they knew. They asked him to get them inside.

"We want to see those men who blew up the paper," they said. The attorney assured them of his inability to do them. E. L. Mills, local agent of Detective Burns in Los Angeles, said late yesterday that two other arrests were impending and that "they will be made in the night."

"Do you mean in San Francisco?" he was asked.

"I will not be specific," he replied.

Many Declare They Knew Bryce While He Was in the West

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29.—Further evidence regarding the movements in this city of J. B. Bryce, alleged to be J. B. McNamara, has been uncovered, and some important facts which will be requested to appear before the jury in Los Angeles which tries the suspected dynamiters were found to have been known by the local detectives last September.

According to the testimony given the police by two of the women who inhabit a house at 778 Commercial street, a man visited that place on the evening following the Times explosion and spoke freely of his knowledge of the disaster. This man said his name was Bryce and that he was a printer. According to the woman, he told of having done a "good job" in the south, and in answer to her statements regarding the pay he received displayed a large roll of bills.

The owner of the house, Mrs. Anna White, and the woman with whom Bryce spent most of the time in the past, Rose Gilmore, or, as she is known in that section of the city, Rose Raphael, identified a picture of McNamara as the man who, in their opinion, was in their house the night following the explosion which demolished the Times building.

Further identification was obtained from the chauffeur of a taxicab who took Bryce and the Gilmore woman on a "joy ride" out to the beach. After spending a considerable amount of money in the Commercial street house, Bryce went to the saloon run by Charles Gans, at Commercial street and Grant avenue, and ordered the owner of the place to call a taxicab for him.

When the machine came it was driven by Thomas Mills, who said that he distinctly remembered taking Miss Gilmore and her male companion to a cafe at Twenty-second and Mission streets and thence to a number of beach resorts.

During the ride to the beach Bryce confided to his companion that his name was Bryce, that he was formerly a printer, but had given up that work in order to devote his time to the business of "seeing that those who were against him got what was coming to them."

Waiters who remember the couple visiting the resort along the beach have also been located, and will, if necessary, be used in identifying Bryce as McNamara. The two women, who long ago furnished Detectives Burke and Richards with a description of Bryce, are in readiness to identify him, and will, if necessary, aid in the identification, and the taxicab driver is also awaiting a subpoena from the south.

Mrs. D. H. Ingersoll Returns From Trip to Los Angeles

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29.—Mrs. D. H. Ingersoll, who is said to have made a positive identification of J. B. McNamara as being the same man she knew as J. B. Bryce, arrived from Los Angeles yesterday and went at once to her home at 3556A Twentieth street.

FISHERS IN STORM'S PATH

Many Vessels Are Wrecked in Two Days' West Indian Hurricane

Sailors Suffer Great Hardship From Exposure and Want of Food

NEW ORLEANS, April 29.—Fierce encounters with a lashing hurricane and angry seas, two nights of exposure and long hours of hunger and thirst were the lot of scores of fish and oystermen on the gulf coast fleets during the West Indian gale of Tuesday and Wednesday. Stories of suffering among crews of wrecked steamers and oyster luggers are coming in today, brought by men who succeeded in reaching villages after a long fight in the gale off shore.

Numerous patrols are chugging today throughout bayous and inlets in search of fishermen believed to have taken refuge from the hurricane and unable to reach home.

LIVE ON BOILED SHRIMP.

Dispatches from Biloxi tell of the return last night of Daniel Gorenflo, son of a prominent packer, who with the crew of the schooner Arapahoe had a terrible experience during the hurricane. Losing their bearings and blown from their moorings, they ran short of provisions and subsisted on boiled shrimp for three days, the only drinking water available being that which they caught during the down-pour.

Oscar Colson of Scranton, Mass., captain of the schooner Reindeer, was near the Arapahoe. The anchor line parted during the blow, the Reindeer drifting two days and nights across the long stretch of Louisiana marshes and bayous to Catfish Pass. Colson reached Biloxi last night after rowing more than forty miles in a small skiff to carry relief for his crew. He was nearly famished.

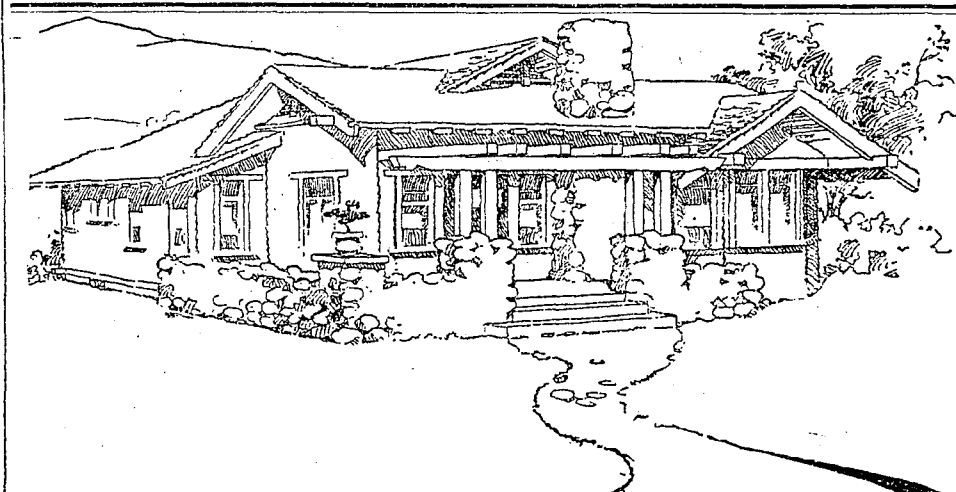

SCHOONER IN DANGER.

A pleasure party in a schooner anchored near Chandelur Island when the blow started. The hurricane became so fierce that the crew was forced to cut away the masts to prevent capsizing. Water and provisions had been exhausted when a passenger launch was signalled to tow them to Ship Island.

Six good sized schooners were blown on the beach at Pass Christian. Several of them had cargoes of oysters and nearly all were seriously damaged.

possible until I appear on the witness stand."

While Mrs. Ingersoll would not admit this, it is understood that she was told by the authorities of Los Angeles to say nothing definite of her identification of McNamara as Bryce. She was evidently overwrought by her experience of the last few days and showed the effects of the strain under which she must have been laboring.

NOTICE TO ALL PEOPLE INTERESTED IN THE PURCHASE OF LOTS IN PIEDMONT MANOR

—At a meeting held last night it was decided to advance all prices in Piedmont Manor on Monday next.

—It has been plainly evident ever since we published our opening sale price list that our quotations were too low.

—This fact was proven when over one hundred thousand dollars' worth of this property was snapped up in less than ten days.

—It was further proven when it was found that all the property on all FOUR sides of Piedmont Manor was being held at 40% higher prices than we were quoting.

—In so much as this is the only "wide-frontage-lot" subdivision in Piedmont,

—nearer to the Key Route than any other section of Piedmont, —and destined to become as beautiful as the choicest sections of Piedmont.

—we are more than justified in making this advance.

—Why, it was only yesterday morning that one of the most prominent real estate men in this city said to the writer that Piedmont Manor was the most underpriced tract that ever went upon the local market.

—"That property will be worth $60 or $70 a foot in no time," he said. "And as a protection to real estate values you ought to charge more for it."

—The new prices will vary according to the desirability of the lots, but will average about $500 per lot advance.

—Parties buying today or tomorrow will be allowed the old prices.

—All contracts signed after tomorrow must be at the increased price.

GIBBONS TO SUCCEED BOWYER AT ANNAPOLIS

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Captain John H. Gibbons has been selected superintendent of the United States naval academy to succeed Captain John M. Bowyer, May 15, when the latter will voluntarily relinquish the position on account of ill health. Captain Bowyer probably will be assigned to less arduous duties. In announcing the change the navy department declared it was due entirely to the state of Captain Bowyer's health, and had no relation whatever to the recent Miss Beers incident at Annapolis.

Officers Decide Not to Arrest Mother of Many Small Children.

OGDEN, Utah, April 29.—When the United States officers went to the home of Mrs. Antonio Alto to arrest her for complicity in counterfeiting operations they found the house so crowded with small children that they compromised by allowing an officer on the premises and by taking the woman's brother-in-law, Paul Alto, and a quantity of imitation gold dollars to police headquarters. Mrs. Alto's husband and a friend named Quinto are under arrest in San Francisco, charged with counterfeiting.

A NEW HAVEN CHILD Restored to Health by Vinol— Case Interests Many Parents

"My little daughter ever since her birth had been frail and sickly, and was a constant source of worry. Several months ago I secured a bottle of Vinol and commenced to give it to her. I immediately noted an improvement in her health and appearance. I gave her three bottles of Vinol, and from the good it has done her I can truly say it will do all you claim, and I want to recommend Vinol to anyone who desires to build up a weak, run-down system."—J. Edmund Miller, New Haven, Conn. (We guarantee this testimonial to be genuine.) This child's recovery was due to the combined action of the medicinal elements of the cod's liver—aided by the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonic iron, which are contained in Vinol—and the strongest evidence that Vinol will build up and strengthen delicate children, old people and the weak, run down and debilitated, is our willingness to return the purchase money in every case where it fails to give complete satisfaction. SOCIETY WOMEN TO GIVE AID TO SAILORS' FAMILIES

MRS. CAROL SHORB BUCK, MRS. GEORGE C. PERKINS and MRS. ELEANOR MARTIN, who are among the patronesses of the May Day garden party to be given on Yerba Buena island Monday for the benefit of destitute families of United States sailors and marines.

Society matrons and maids on both sides of the bay have entered with great zest into the plans of the garden party to be given Monday, Mayday, on Yerba Buena island, for the benefit of the destitute families of United States sailors and marines. Hundreds of tickets are being sold for the affair, and the women of the naval training station on the island who have the fete in charge, expect to reap a large benefit fund. Mrs. George C. Perkins of Oakland, Mrs. Carol Shorb-Buck and Mrs. Eleanor Martin of San Francisco, and the other society leaders who are acting as patronesses, are not only giving it their recognition, but are taking an active part in bringing the garden party to a most successful culmination.

CHAMBER TO HELP LOCAL BUILDERS

Specifications and Plans for College Structure to Be Filed.

Besides making arrangements for the filing of plans and specifications for municipal building and construction work at the Chamber of Commerce, Secretary Denton has arranged for the filing of papers with details of materials needed for building and other purposes by the Board of Regents of the University of California, that Oakland contractors may have an opportunity to make bids. A communication has been received by the chamber from the Judson Manufacturing Company and the Van Emon Elevator Company, assuring the organization of their support in encouraging home industries at every opportunity. Chairman Parsons of the 1915 committee has reported that the body is ready to take up the matter of getting Alameda county exhibits for the Panama-Pacific exposition as soon as the site has been decided upon.

SIGHTSEEING CAR URGED BY CHAMBER. The Chamber of Commerce has gone on record as favoring the establishment of a daily sight-seeing trolley car for the benefit of visitors to Oakland, parties of whom come here every day from San Francisco and surrounding cities. It is pointed out by A. A. Denison, secretary of the chamber, that every progressive city on the coast and throughout the East has a regular sight-seeing service, which is a valuable means of advertising an industrial center. With the natural beauty surrounding this city such a capture should be successful.

CARDINAL GIBBONS DISCUSSES PRESS

Newspaper Is "Colossal Engine for Truth or Error," Says Churchman.

NEW YORK, April 29.—In connection with the celebration in St. Patrick's Cathedral next month of the tenth anniversary of the institution of special masses for newspaper workers, a letter from Cardinal Gibbons will be read. The Cardinal says: "The press is undoubtedly a colossal engine of truth or error. We are daily confronted by it. It penetrates every walk of life and its influence and circulation are daily increasing. As it is the duty of the press to be an agent of good and not of evil so it is the duty of the people to give their support to such papers as are conspicuous for their elevating tone, and to do everything in their power to lessen the great evil results of those which have an influence for bad. "I regret that I cannot be present at your anniversary. I assure you that I would have taken a particular pleasure in assisting and in being in the midst of those who are so closely connected with great vehicles of public thought which sway such great power in moulding the moral, intellectual and social life of the people."

BOOK BRINGS $21,000. NEW YORK, April 29.—The second highest price for a book in the Hoe library sale was reached when a book sold for $21,000. Hill of Chicago purchased the book.

SAYS HITCHCOCK MADE POLITICAL MACHINE

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Postmaster General Hitchcock was charged by Representative Cullup of Indiana on the floor of the House yesterday with being the "creator and the presiding genius of a powerful political machine organized within the postoffice department." Cullup also declared the power given the President to appoint government employees was "too dangerous to be confided to any one man."

SHALL THE PEOPLE OR BOSS MIKE KELLY RULE?

COUNTY TREASURER MIKE KELLY, the political boss of Oakland and Alameda county, has issued the Czar-like edict that the annexed district shall not be represented in the commission form of government to be organized under the new Charter. He has, therefore, given out what is falsely described as an administration ticket headed by Mayor Mott in which the annexed district is shut out from any representation and the pre-annexation pledges are absolutely ignored, and the name of John Forrest is substituted thereon for the name of P. C. Frederickson, the sole annexed district candidate for any office in the new government and the logical administration candidate for Commissioner in the new government. It is a well known fact that Mayor Mott does not favor John Forrest's candidacy and that his name has not been placed by him on what purports to be the administration ticket, but that it has been put there against the Mayor's wishes. The ticket is, therefore, with Forrest's name on it, an entirely Mike Kelly frame-up.

It is generally understood around the city hall and on the street that if Forrest is elected Commissioner Mike Kelly will be absolute boss of the situation. The majority of the Commission will be putty in his hands. He will thus be able to control the municipal government and direct its policies, whether or not they conform with the policies which have been inducted by Mayor Mott and approved by the public. But, above all, Kelly will be the sole and arbitrary dispenser of the public patronage without regard to the public interests.

Mike Kelly's main ambition is to be for Oakland what Abe Ruef was for San Francisco—its political boss to enjoy absolute control and distribution of the public patronage. If he secures that control through the election of his nominee, John Forrest, for the Commissionership to which the annexed district, in all honesty and justice and honor is entitled, Boss Kelly will be in a position to wield exactly the same power in Oakland in the direction of municipal affairs as Boss Ruef exerted in San Francisco, and it will be used by Kelly with just as little regard for the public interests and the community's welfare as Ruef used it. Oakland is at this time confronted with exactly the same conditions, politically, that made San Francisco a moral stench in the nostrils of the nation.

The questions, therefore, which the citizens of Oakland must answer at the coming election are these: Shall the people control the government or shall it be controlled and bartered away by Boss Kelly? Shall the pre-annexation election pledges of representation to the annexed district in the new government be kept by the election of P. C. Frederickson, the annexed district's candidate, or shall they be openly violated by the election of John Forrest, the candidate of Mike Kelly, who has openly declared that the annexed district shall not be represented? Shall Mayor Mott's hands be free to carry out his well defined and popularly approved policies, or must their fate be transferred to the tender mercies of a patronage-seeking boss? These are the questions involved in the coming election.

Mayor Mott's Re-election Assured.

THE TRIBUNE has not the slightest doubt but what Mayor Frank K. Mott will be elected as the chief executive of the municipality under the new charter for the next four years. The magnificent support accorded to him at the primaries, when he polled nearly as many votes as the joint vote cast for his rivals, gives positive assurance of his re-election. The people of this city have a just appreciation of the splendid service the Mayor has given them during the past six years and the marked progress which has been made through the carrying out of his enlightened policies. The great public improvements which have been started under his administration and which are the direct outgrowth of the Mayor's policies are, at present, in a formative and incomplete state and it would be perilous to the city's best interests to "swap horses in mid-stream." The people of Oakland know that Mott can be relied upon. They judge him from his past works, and those works have added indisputably to the fame and the progress and prosperity of the city at home and abroad. They know, moreover, by experience that he can be trusted to complete in every detail the great public improvements which he has inaugurated, and that there will be danger of their being hampered by delay in their execution or alterations in their places. It is no time for Oakland, at this stage of its career, to falter or to make experiments in the administrative head of its affairs. We know that we have a good, honest, reliable and progressive executive and that it would be the height of unwisdom not to re-elect him. His election should be accomplished by an overwhelming majority.

If the reported discovery of a ledge showing rich values of platinum, besides gold and silver, has been made in the French Hill mine near Greenwood, El Dorado county, it adds an important element to the mineral resources of California. Platinum is of higher value than gold, as it is a rarer mineral and a tremendous demand has been made for it through the constant growth of the application of electricity to every phase of human wants and activities. Platinum has been found in moderate quantities in this state and in Southern Oregon, but only in small quantities in the placer formations and its recovery has accompanied that of gold in the sluices of the gold placer mines. No vein of platinum has before been found in either California or Oregon; so, if the ledge opened in the El Dorado county mine is bona fide, it gives promise of further discoveries and a permanent place for the valuable metal among our mineral resources. The French Hill mine is located on the mother lode and has been hitherto worked solely for gold quartz. The new platinum bearing ledge is said to have been opened up at a level 1000 feet below the old vein.

The report recently issued that a corner had been secured by a Japanese on the potato crop of the state this year, and that prices would be high because of an alleged shortage in the acreage under potato cultivation, has had the effect of drawing shipments from the eastern states. Up to Thursday afternoon seventeen overland carloads had been received in San Francisco. Another peculiar feature has developed in the produce market. Oregon and Texas are shipping onions here by the carload, and the Union Steamship company's flagship, the Manuka, arrived in port Thursday from New Zealand and the Society Island with onions as part of her cargo.

The Fresno Herald says: "Wages $2.50 per day and board for farm hands in the San Joaquin valley and no answer to the call for harvesters." As it is too early for harvesting, it is possible that those who are willing to work in the harvest fields are not disposed to respond to a premature call which would involve a period of waiting for work for several weeks.

Next week Santa Rosa will hold its annual rose carnival. In all preceding festivals of the kind, Santa Rosa has made a display which makes good its right to its name. Santa Barbara and Pasadena have rival rose festivals, but neither can excel, if equal, Santa Rosa in the volume, variety, wealth, brilliancy and perfection of a display of this popular flower.

Anglo-American Arbitration Treaty.

The proposed general treaty of arbitration between the United States and Great Britain, the purpose of which is to settle any and all disputes of whatsoever character that may arise between the two countries by the judgment of an impartial court of adjudicators instead of by an appeal to arms, has met with not only the cordial approval of the leaders of the two principal political parties in Great Britain, but also by France, Japan and several other of the leading great powers of the civilized world. France and Japan have expressed their desire to unite in a movement which promises so much for the preservation of the peace throughout the world. Germany is the only one of the great powers that has shown any opposition to the proposition. With its customary disposition to suspect some ulterior design in any co-operative movement on the part of rival nations, the German government has hinted its disapproval, intimating that the proposition foreshadows an alliance between the English-speaking nations to dominate the world. And the personal answer of the Kaiser has been to call out nearly 350,000 reservists from their peaceful and productive occupations during the summer months to join the regular army of approximately 650,000 men of arms and a large contingent of the officers and men of the German fleet—making in all over one million men—in the summer maneuvers in the field. It is practically a defiant display of militant power in opposition to a rational international movement in favor of world-peace, with the ultimate purpose of general disarmament in the interest of international economy and the relief of the non-combatant taxpayers of all nations from the tremendous burdens that they are required to bear to maintain ever-increasing armies and navies for self-protection against unfriendly aggressors.

The credit for the suggestion of the treaty of arbitration between the two English-speaking nations has been freely given by the British prime minister to President Taft in his Guildhall (London) speech. Ex-Premier Balfour seconded the resolution Premier Asquith offered approving the principle involved in the proposed treaty as serving the highest interests of the two nations and as tending to promote the peace of the world. Asquith declared that the profound significance of the treaty was that it aroused a feeling on both sides of the Atlantic for the abandonment of war as a possible solution of international disputes, however grave, and the substitution of argument for their settlement instead of resort to force. "Treaties are like pie-crust, made to be broken," was the definition of an astute French diplomat, which Ex-Premier Balfour, in seconding Asquith's resolution skillfully offset in the following forceful statement: "I grant that paper formulae are useless in themselves, but if they represent the settled conviction of the people they are valuable. International agreements, with no more power of enforcement, have made war far more civilized than in the past. Why cannot they make war impossible?"

That expresses in a nutshell the significance and value of the arbitration treaty for whose suggestion Taft is admittedly responsible. It is to the interest of the human race that war should be made impossible. If that desirable end is accomplished ultimately through the Anglo-American arbitration treaty, the names of its authors will go down in history among the greatest benefactors of mankind.

If Wu Ting Fang comes back to the United States as the Chinese minister plenipotentiary, as is reported possible, we may look for a renewal of the effort to break down the barriers raised by the exclusion against the admission of Chinese cheap labor. His appointment, if made, should be discredited by the United States government on the ground of his previous meddling with our domestic affairs.

Those American and European autoists touring Switzerland who have been denied the use of the public highways in the most picturesque of its cantons should turn their faces toward California. Here they will be cordially welcomed to the free use of our good roads and to the enjoyment of natural scenery equally as picturesque but on a vastly larger scale than that of Switzerland.

Bachelor Musings

Most people who are willing to loose the strings of their purse know in advance that it is empty. Men used to flirt with pretty girls and marry good cooks, now they marry pretty girls and hire good cooks. Usually the things that keep a man awake at night are those he neglected during the day.—New York Press.

MEN AND WOMEN

The common idea of an artist is a slight, pale-cheeked little person with a flowing tie and an anaemic disposition. Herman Dudley Murphy, the Boston artist, stands six feet and some inches high. His shoulders are broad and his muscles hard from continued exercise in his canoe and yacht. A woman entered his studio the other day and asked to see Mr. Murphy. "That's him, standing over there," the attendant said. The woman looked where Murphy stood towering like an ancient viking, and gasped. "Why," she whispered in surprise to the clerk, "he's big enough to work, isn't he?"—Boston Traveler.

A message from the Queen was given to the congregation of working girls which assembled, as usual, at All Hallows' Church, London Wall, this morning. This is the only church in London, if indeed not in the whole country, which is used in the early morning as a place where women and girls can take rest and shelter while waiting for the opening of the offices or other places of business where they are engaged.

Large numbers of such city workers cannot afford the ordinary railway fares, and in order to benefit by taking workmen's tickets are obliged to come by early trains, with the result that many have to wait two hours or more in the city before being able to commence work. To meet such cases the rector of All Hallows, the Rev. Montague Fowler, has for years past held a service in the church for women and girls, and in the church hall for men.

Addressing the women and girls this morning Mrs. Fowler, the rector's wife, said that the Queen took a great interest in the work being carried on and sent materials for them to make garments of. Her Majesty had sent a very handsome donation which amounted to practically double what she had graciously sent before. Mrs. Fowler added that she had received a letter from Buckingham Palace enclosing twelve copies of a pamphlet describing the work of the London Needlework Guild, of which the Queen was patroness. This consisted of a reprint of an article describing one of the visits which Her Majesty has many times paid to the Guild on the occasion of the unpacking and arranging of garments made.

In an interview with a press representative Mrs. Fowler said that the garments made by the women and girls attending that church were sent direct to the Queen. All Hallows' was, she thought, the only church in the country in which it was permitted to do needlework.—London Globe.

RHYMED STUFF

REWARD OF MERIT.

Perhaps, no one will thank you for the efforts that you make
To spare the feelings of a friend or foe;
When you listen to a story just for old acquaintance's sake
And laugh at anecdotes of long ago.
Your great forbearance toward the man who slaps you on the back
And wrings your hand until 'tis limp and lame
Its due appreciation on this earth may sadly lack.
But the angels will record it just the same.
Be patient, friend, and do not smite the person at the play
Whose rhythmic feet keep tapping on your chair,
Nor threaten him who hums the tunes the orchestra may play
Or to his friend relates the plot with care.
'Tis true, your little sacrifices made from day to day
Scant notice from the busy world will claim.
They may be dismissed as trifles, as the crowd moves on its way,
But the angels will record them just the same.

have you heard that the National Association to Abolish the Death Penalty has moved its headquarters to the University of California at San Francisco? A certain editor of a morning paper asked me the other day, "Knowing him to be something of a wag, I encouraged him to out with it. 'It's too bad that the death penalty is to be abolished on the ground that it is a Biblical antithesis,' he continued. I responded with the interrogative how, which is de rigueur in cases of this sort. 'Why, yes,' he continued, 'a biblical antithesis. You see, if you cross Jordan you get hell.' As Mauley said about his toothache, the agony has abated—Town Talk."

HIS House in Order," might well be the theme of country tales in these May days. For many people own a country home—simple or pretentious, as the case may be—and it carries an appeal that one never finds in the larger home of a great city.

California, with its rainless summer, is developing its own style of summer home—and noted architects from the East last year came to this far coast to study the "bungalow system" developed here.

In New York, the Fifth avenue homes are closed for the greater part of the year. Their owners live in country places, and when they come to town they live at hotels. It is true also across the bay. The real homes are at Burlingame, Ross Valley, Mill Valley and the San Rafael region generally.

Country life is made possible, because of the simpler way the houses are built, and they are equipped along lines of extreme simplicity also. The hostess of today knows that nature will be the real hostess, and that a house does not matter when the beautiful out-of-door world can be the environment.

One hostess has framed in her hall Longfellow's well known stanza:

"And Nature, the old nurse, took
The child upon her knee,
Saying, 'Here is a story book,
Thy Father has written for thee.'"

And her guests read the wonderful stories, and it is no wonder that her country home is the most popular in all the country side.

Another thing that this simplicity does for us is to allow us to lend our country places. No one now ever thinks of taking valuable rugs, or fine silver to country homes. There are the simplest and most artistic of dishes—Japanese mattings are on the floor, and the appointments are charmingly but inexpensively planned. And so country homes are loaned, for any one can take up life, and go on with it, in a modern country place. People who are not going to use it themselves lend their homes for week-ends to friends, and in the late autumn, when the children's school days make the return to town imperative, friends take up the country life, and go on with it in the simpler home.

MANY OAKLANDERS HAVE IDEAL HOMES.

The Wallace Alexanders have an ideal home in Los Gatos, and it has been often occupied by their friends. The Misses Selby have also a country place at Los Gatos, and when they do not spend the summer there their friends are very welcome to occupy their home.

The same thing is true of the Edgar Bishop home at Ben Lomond. In some country places there are regular farms, and the city business man takes a rare pride in the knowledge he is able to acquire in the farming line. Sometimes he is very amusing, for his knowledge is mostly theoretical, but in the main he does very well.

The largest of these farms was that of the late E. H. Harriman at Arden, and the butter and milk from the big dairy there was famous in New York.

"Highlands," developed by Mrs. Isaac Requa, is a country place like Arden.

The E. A. Herons have a large ranch near Hayward, and the Irving Lundburgs have a real farm at Los Gatos; so have the Robert Knights, and the Frank Brighams. And nearer home one finds the larger estates of the Will Meeks, Mrs. Horry Meek, and the Egbert Stones.

The Harmon Bells are establishing their country home at Santa Barbara, and they enjoy from there motor trips, and as Mr. Bell is very fond of yachting, they have their own yacht, in that fascinating seaport town.

The W. S. Goodfellows are also fond of the sea, and Mr. Goodfellow keeps his yacht at Santa Cruz, where the family has established a country home.

The Traylor Bells are building a very picturesque bungalow at Sunol, and they hope to spend many months of each year there.

So the many women of the smart set are very busy in these days of the early spring preparing for the summer campaign, and the chapter of the many activities is well described by the title: "His house in order."

MRS. EDWARD WALSH DELIGHTFUL HOSTESS.

The largest and most important social events of the week were the two bridge afternoons given by Mrs. Edward Walsh at her home, "Malahui," at Linda Vista. The name "Malahui" was on all the bridge scores, and there were many inquiries as to its meaning. It is a Hawaiian title, and means "shady rest." Mrs. Edward Walsh received one hundred and twenty guests on Wednesday, including her older friends in her invitations, and a hundred of the younger matrons and young girls were entertained on Thursday. "Malahui" was very beautiful, with the most elaborate decorations seen over here this year.

It is a most ideal home, very picturesque, and built along truly artistic lines. The decorations were arranged in fascinating baskets, which held great quantities of lovely irises, in tones of white and lavender. The scheme of decoration was of rare beauty, and was carried out in a wilderness of flowers. The prizes were dainty boxes, beautifully covered in tapestry effects, and in dainty colors.

Mrs. Walsh is a charming hostess, with that gracious ease of manner which is such a happy characteristic in a hostess. Mrs. Walsh has learned to make her guests very welcome, in a sweet, unselfish fashion. She plans all the details of a large entertainment admirably and receives her guests with much dignity, and she thoroughly enjoys the happy time she is giving them in her home.

Among her guests were the members of the Cosmos, the Wheelock, and the Linda Vista Card clubs, and members of almost all the prominent families on our side of the bay were included in her invitation list.

Mrs. Walsh was assisted in receiving her guests by her daughter, Mrs. John Louis Lohse, and by Mrs. Maurice Walsh. On Thursday, when she entertained for the younger matrons, she was assisted by Mrs. Frederick Diekmann, Mrs. Westcott, Miss Clarisse Lohse, Mrs. Maurice Walsh, and Mrs. Louis Lohse.

Mrs. Walsh was beautifully gowned in white liberty satin, the gown showing a lovely drape of rare lace. It was made along artistic lines, and was very effective and becoming.

SOCIETY'S LEADERS ARE HER GUESTS.

Among the many guests invited by Mrs. Walsh for Wednesday were: Mrs. Frank Havens, Mrs. James Allen, Mrs. M. W. The bridge afternoons planned by Mrs. Walsh represented the largest card parties of the season, and they were certainly among the most enjoyable.

MISS CHARLOTTE HALL IS GUEST OF HONOR.

One of the most delightful luncheons of the week was given at the Claremont Country Club, when Miss Muriel Steele made her guest of honor Miss Charlotte Hall, for whom so many compliments are being planned.

Fate has been very good to beautiful Muriel Steele, for her gifts have been many. She is such a clever, well-read girl, but what her friends appreciate most is not her beauty nor her cleverness, but her exceeding generosity, and her fine ideals of friendship.

The table at the Country Club was a lovely study in yellow. The centerpiece was a most picturesque basket, overflowing with lovely marigolds, and smaller baskets, also filled with marigolds, were at each end of the table.

The name cards also carried out the gold and yellow color tones of the decorations, and represented stunning poster girls in big hats.

Miss Steele was assisted in receiving her guests by her mother, bright and clever Mrs. E. L. G. Steele, and by her sister, beautiful Mrs. Thomas H. Williams, who came from San Francisco for the luncheon.

Miss Charlotte Hall was a studning study, in a gown of chiffon over pale blue satin, with a wide picture hat. All the guests, in very dainty gowns, and lovely spring hats, made a charming picture, in admirable color tones, a fine study against the artistic background of the Country Club.

Miss Steele's guests were:

Mrs. Hugh Goodfellow, Mrs. E. L. G. Steele, Mrs. John Valentine, Mrs. Thomas E. Williams, Mrs. Walter Starr, Mrs. Charlotte Hall, Mrs. Hiram Hall, Mrs. Horry Meek, Mrs. S. O. Johnson, Mrs. S. O. WHEELERS' RECEPTION AFFAIR OF INTEREST.

A reception of much interest to many people on both sides of the bay was that given last Saturday at the home of the Charles Stetson Wheelers across the bay. Both, Mr. Wheeler and his wife, who was formerly Miss Marsh, are well known over here, and they have also many friends in Berkeley, as Mr. Wheeler has for many years been a Regent of the State University.

Mrs. Wheeler and Miss Olive Wheeler entertained in honor of Mrs. John A. Boalt, who leaves in a few days for her home in Paris.

The Wheelers have an exceedingly attractive home across the bay, and it is built in the style of a castle, and immensely picturesque with the ivy which now completely covers the beautiful facade. The home was beautifully decorated, with an arrangement of lavender and white irises, and white and lavender wisteria.

The gowns of the members of the receiving party were elaborate, and among those who assisted Mrs. Wheeler and her daughter, Miss Olive Wheeler, in receiving their guests were Mrs. Phebe A. Hearst, Mrs. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, Mrs. William A. Magee, Mrs. Jenkins Weber, Mrs. Louis Montague, Mrs. William Fitzhugh, Mrs. James de Fremery, Mrs. A. M. Gunn, Miss Agnes Tillman, Miss Edith Slack, Miss Margaret Belden, Miss Frances Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler, with their daughters, and Mrs. Boalt, will leave early in May for the East. They will attend the commencement exercises at Vassar, from which college Miss Lillian Wheeler graduates this year, and later they will go to Europe, where they are to spend a year in travel.

MRS. MEE WRITES FROM FAR EAST.

Mrs. Margaret Mee, and her party, in which is Miss Rose Kales, write most enthusiastic letters from Japan. They are so fascinated with life in that 'delightfully quaint country that they have planned to stay much longer than they originally intended. They have taken a house there, and intend to try housekeeping for six months. It will be a fascinating and ideal experience for the young people of the party, among whom are Miss Margaret Mee, and Miss Rose Kales.

CHOPIN NUMBERS ARE HEARD AT EBELL.

On Tuesday afternoon at Ebell, Mrs. Clarence Wetmore and Miss Maud Wellendorf gave the regular program for the day. It was an exceedingly high class performance, and worthy of a larger hearing than was given it. The Chopin numbers on the piano were enthusiastically received and an encore demanded one of the Chopin preludes. The Brindisi from Lucrezia Borgia was sung as few professionals could sing it, and altogether the wide range of subjects chosen for the vocal numbers showed Mrs. Wetmore's versatility and ability. The program follows:

The Asra Rubinstein
Aria from "Pique Dame" Rachakowsky
The Floods of Spring Rachmaninoff
Poele Schmitt
Nocturne Scriabin
Etude Moszkowski
Erikong Schubert
Nocturne Chopin
Etude Chopin
Elizabethan Lyric E. A. Browne
Love Songs the Lark J. W. Biehoff
Madame Demotte Katharine Barry
Brindisi Donizetti
Mrs. Clarence Wetmore.

Mrs. Vernon Waldron was hostess, assisted by Mrs. M. F. Milwain, Mrs. John Smith, Mrs. Woodbury, Miss Wilkinson, Mrs. R. H. Kessler, Mrs. F. A. Allardt, Mrs. Harry Carlton.

CARD PARTY CALLS OUT SOCIETY MEMBERS.

One of the large card parties of the week was given by Mrs. George Leonard Boveroux at her home on Euclid avenue on Wednesday, when ten tables of bridge were filled with enthusiastic players. Among the guests were:

Mrs. L. Ghiradelli, Mrs. J. R. Scupham, Mrs. H. S. Kegan, Mrs. Auerbach, Mrs. George W. Cope, Mrs. J. C. Ruel, Mrs. Edward Taylor, Mrs. Byron Hall, and daughters, Mrs. The Misses Brilling, Young and Mrs. Mrs. T. F. Scanlan, Mrs. J. Cal Ewing, Mrs. Sherman Hall, Mrs. Gould, Mrs. F. Hinds, Mrs. Hugh Webster.

MRS. SCHOONMACHER TO WED BERKELEY MAN.

One of the great surprise announcements of the late winter was that of the engagement of Mrs. Carl Schoonmacher and Mr. Duncan McDuffie. Mrs. Schoonmacher, who was Jean Howard, the only daughter of John L. Howard, came to Oakland for a visit of a few months at the family home on Vernon street. She intended to make her permanent home abroad, and was going back to Paris in the near future. But those plans are all changed, and instead, she is to marry Duncan McDuffie, who is building a very handsome $40,000 residence for his bride.

Mrs. Schoonmacher, who is a young widow, is a stunning type of brunette. She is handsome, and when she was in London, attracted great attention. She is very striking, and she is in every way a splendid woman. She is well read, and has traveled far, and she has made a very great deal of her exceptional advantages. The family home of the Howards has been for many years on Vernon Heights, and they are among the best known families about the bay.

Miss Jean Howard, Miss Marietta Havens and Miss Grace Baldwin spent school girl days together, and made a trio of most attractive girls.

Miss Havens is now Mrs. Paul Dinsmore, Miss Baldwin is Mrs. Grant Selfridge, and Jean Howard Schoonmacher is to be Mrs. Duncan McDuffie.

Mr. McDuffie is a young man, whose success has been watched with interest by many friends. He did exceedingly good work in the University, and with Victor Henderson and Dr. Reinhardt, made up a trio notable in fraternity and social circles.

After graduation, Mr. McDuffie was employed in the large firm of Taft & Pennoyer, going from there to a real estate firm in Berkeley. There were a few lucky experiments in real estate, and with skill and judgment there were others, and today Mr. McDuffie is one of Berkeley's successful men.

Doctor Reinhardt was recently married, and now, with the announcement of Duncan McDuffie's engagement, Victor Henderson is left alone in his glory—at least in that glory which can accrue to solitary bachelorhood.

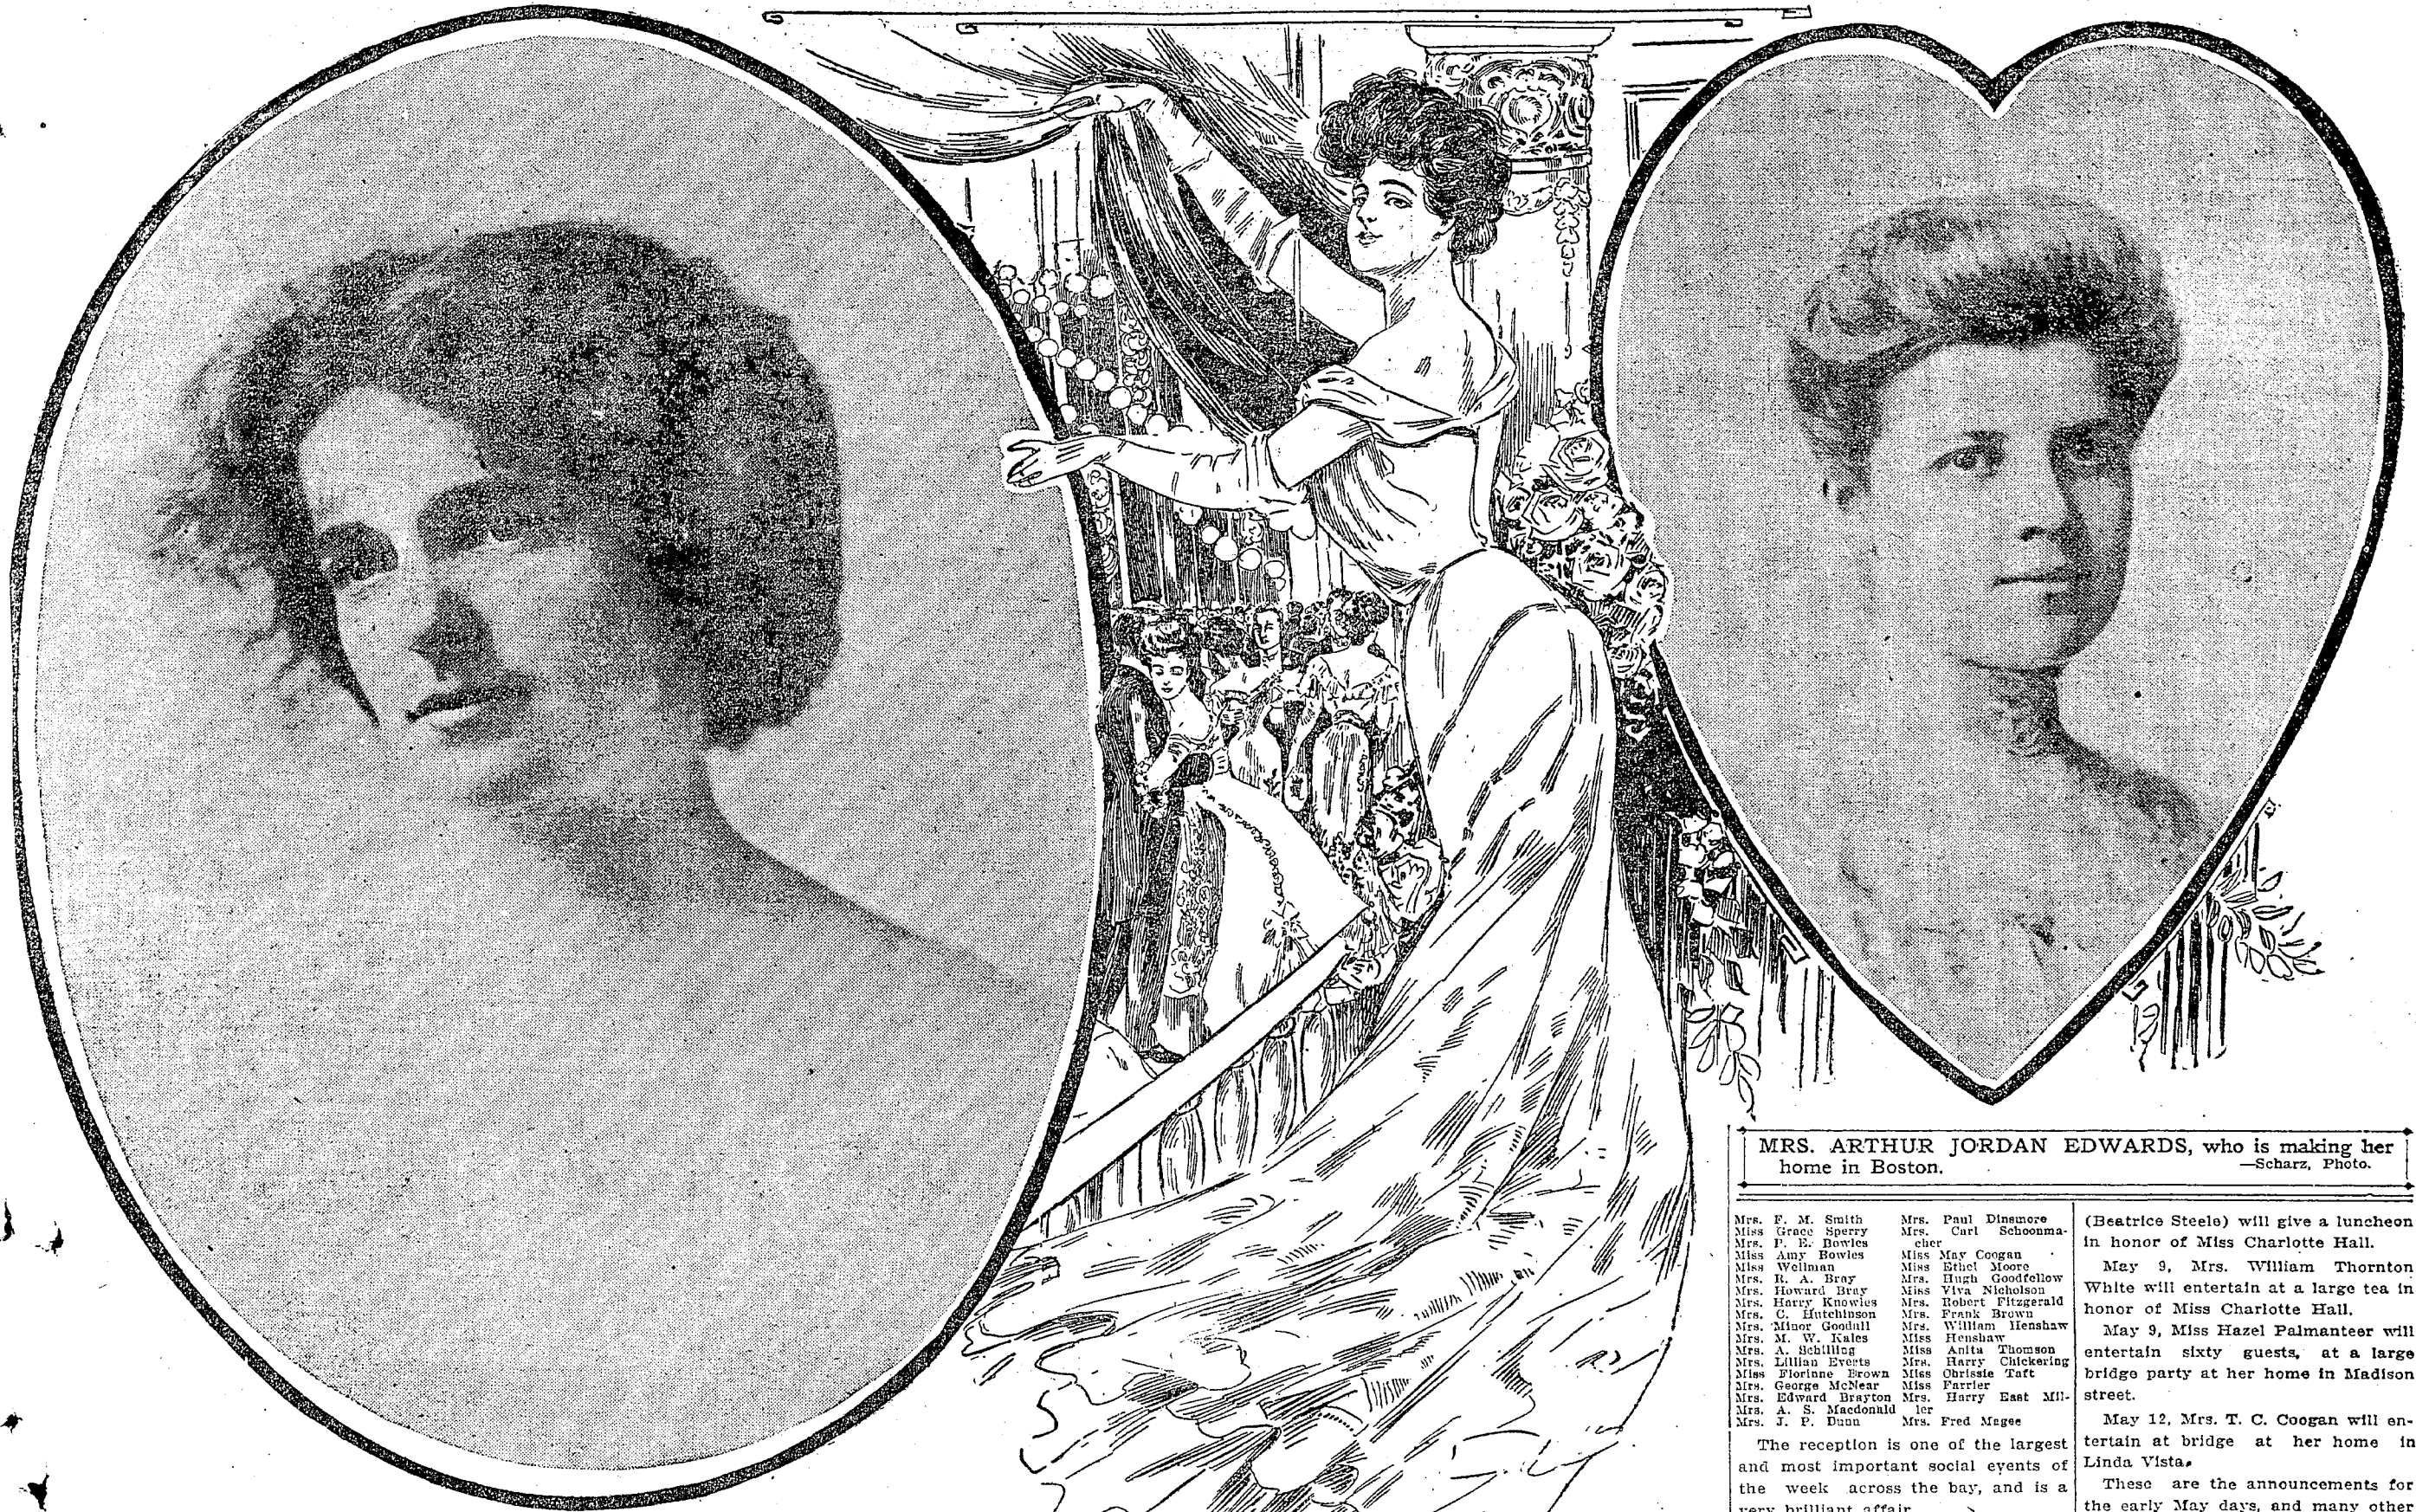

The date of the wedding of Mrs. Schoonmacher and Mr. McDuffie has not been announced, but it is understood that it will take place sometime during the summer.

This afternoon the "Shakespeare Section" of Ebell Club enjoyed one of the most delightful theater parties that has been given during the Hotelling season.

The women of the Section have been giving some thorough study to Shakespeare during the year and were able to enjoy, most intelligently, Hotelling's fine reading and acting of that immortal prince, Hamlet. The

The Shakespeare Section represents one of the oldest and most important sections of the Ebell Club. Its members devote much time to genuine hard work, and each year it represents one of the most important sections of Ebell. Mrs. J. R. Scupham, who is an exceedingly clever Shakespearean student, led the Section for many seasons. For the past three years its bright curator has been Miss Julia E. Colby, who is also an ardent student of Shakespeare. Miss Colby is also a splendid critic, and her able reviews of leading plays have called out much favorable comment. Under her able leadership, the Ebell Club can boast of the best Shakespeare section on the coast.

MRS. MOFFITT OFF FOR EASTERN VISIT.

Mrs. Herbert Moffitt (Marguerite Joliffe) and her sister, Miss Gertrude Joliffe, left for the East yesterday, and they are going directly to New York. In that city they are always the guests of Mrs. George Doubleday (Alice Moffitt) who is a most interesting hostess. Her friends always were very fond of bright, optimistic, affectionate Alice Moffitt, and she hears that she is a very successful young matron in New York. She has a lovely home there, and three very charming children, one of whom is named "Marguerite" for her godmother, Mrs. Herbert Moffitt.

MRS. T. C. COOGAN TO BE BRIDGE HOSTESS.

Mrs. T. C. Coogan is planning to entertain many friends, at a bridge afternoon at her Linda Vista home, and has sent out cards for May 12. The Coogan home is one of the most interesting in the Linda Vista district, and the Coogans are an immensely popular family. Mrs. Coogan will be assisted in entertaining her guests by her attractive daughters, May and Marjorie Coogan. The bridge afternoon at the Coogan home is anticipated with much pleasure by a large number of friends.

DR. PORTER ON WAY FROM EUROPE.

Dr. Porter and Walter Leimert have sailed from Europe, and are now due in New York. They have had an interesting and extended trip abroad, but one hears that the latter part of the trip has not been so successful, as Dr. Porter was very ill abroad.

PICTURES IN THE MEDDLER.

Mrs. Warren McKibben, whose picture appears in tonight's Meddler, was the guest of honor on April 20 at the large reception which Mrs. C. L. Goddard gave for Mrs. McKibben and Mrs. Herbert McKibben. The affair was a very smart one attended by a large number of society folk between the hours of 8 and 11, at the Goddard home in Berkeley. Mrs. Warren McKibben is Mrs. Goddard's sister, and as Miss Florence Goddard was a belle of the bay towns.

Mrs. Arthur Jordan Edwards formerly lived in this city, and is at present making her home in Boston, Massachusetts, where she has a wide circle of friends. She was formerly Miss Grace Dawson, well known here. Mrs. Otis Engs is a matron of Piedmont who has many friends in this city and in Alameda and Berkeley. She has a very attractive home in Blair avenue.

Miss Helen Gray is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gray, and is especially talented in art. She is much entertained in this city and Berkeley.

MANY CROSS BAY FOR BENTLEY AFTERNOON.

Many well known people crossed the bay this afternoon to attend the large reception Mrs. Charles Bentley is giving at her home on Pacific avenue. This is the first time Mrs. Bentley (Florence Hush) has entertained at a large reception in her own home, and her friends have accepted her invitation with much pleasure.

The Bentleys have an unusually attractive home in Pacific avenue, and they entertain a great deal in an informal way. Mr. Bentley is one of San Francisco's very successful business men, and he is most popular with his friends. Mrs. Bentley is a very attractive young matron, very vivacious, and with the splendid enthusiasm characteristic of all the women of the Hush family. She dresses exceedingly well, and all of us know how musical she is. One hears that she is developing an exceptionally fine voice. Mrs. Bentley will be assisted in receiving her guests by her sister, Mrs. William A. Magee, and both the Bentley and Magee families know a great many interesting and prominent San Francisco people.

Among the many included in Mrs. Bentley's list from this side of the bay are:

Mrs. Phoebe A. Hoar, Mrs. J. H. Diekmann, Mrs. Isaac Requa, Mrs. James K. Moffitt, Mrs. Oscar Long, Mrs. Foy, Mrs. Frank O. Havens, Mrs. Wallace Alexander, Mrs. Victor Metcalf, Mrs. Irving Lundberg, Mrs. John F. Connors, Mrs. Herbert Brown, Mrs. Mollie Connors, Mrs. Harry Farr.

$300 Hat Costs Her a Degree

Now Chicago Girl Sues College for Sum of $100,000

CHICAGO.—A $300 hat and its valuable but airy heron egrettes figure prominently in a damage suit for $100,000 filed by Miss Esther Mercy, a former student, against President Harry Pratt Judson of Chicago University and four women. Defamation of character is alleged, and Miss Mercy deprecates the loss of the egrettes, as well as the chance to get a degree this year.

Miss Florentine von Massou Jahn, wife of a sculptor, A. W. von Jahn, now at the court of the Emperor of Germany; Miss Marion Talbot, dean of women; Miss Eva Robinson, head of the housing committee for women, and Mrs. A. W. Small, wife of Dean Small and a sister of Miss von Jahn, are charged with defaming Miss Mercy's character.

Mrs. von Jahn keeps a boardinghouse where Miss Mercy was living when she alleges the plumes were stolen about three weeks ago. She declares Miss Mercy accused her of the theft. Mrs. von Jahn made her leave the house. At that time Mrs. von Jahn says she learned Miss Mercy had been on the stage, and this, coupled with the possession of such a costly hat, convinced her that Miss Mercy was not a fit companion for the other young women in her house.

DENIES ACCUSING HER.

Miss Mercy denied having accused Mrs. von Jahn. She asserts that she merely told her of the theft, and that Mrs. von Jahn became enraged and said that if Miss Mercy made her loss public she would have her sister, Mrs. Small, ask Dean Small to cause her dismissal from the University.

"We had always been friendly until I told her about losing my plumes," said Miss Mercy. "She knew about the hat before, and it never struck her as being wrong that I should have it until after the theft. She began insinuating that I must be an improper person because I had a hat worth $300. She finally stated openly that she knew that I was not fit to associate with respectable women."

"When she threatened me with expulsion I went to the university authorities, expecting to get fair treatment there. I got anything but a fair hearing. Miss Talbot, the dean of women, said that the fact that I possessed such a hat condemned me in the eyes of any sane person. I explained to her that my fiancé had given me the hat with my mother's consent, but she said that did not alter the case."

"Miss Talbot also accused me of entertaining men in my room. I told her that I had done this at the request of Mrs. von Jahn, who wished to use the parlor herself, but this was not considered. I was told that I could not re-enter the university."

UNIVERSITY COUNSEL'S VERSION.

"I have worked hard to get an education, and the blow was a crushing one, but decided to go to the Northwestern University. I was to get my degree this year. They were not content with running me out of Chicago, however, but wrote to President Harris of Northwestern University and told him not to allow me to register."

Wallace Heckman, general counsel and business manager of the university, declares Miss Mercy, who is a former actress, has no case, and the authorities will defend their expulsion of Miss Mercy from the institution. "The matter was handled diplomatically by the university authorities. If she got any undue notoriety, she is to blame. She gave the story to the newspapers," concluded Heckman.

Gaby Deslys Refuses To Wear Harem Skirt

GABY DESLYS in her hobble skirt. She refuses to wear harem gown.

PARIS.—"No harem skirt for me." This is the statement made most emphatically by Mlle. Gaby Deslys, the famous French actress and beauty, for love of whom King Manuel of Portugal is said to have lost his throne. The picture of her was snapped while she was taking a stroll in the streets of Monte Carlo. She is wearing her famous rope of pearls.

"Why, I wouldn't be seen wearing those horrible, ugly things," said the delectable Gaby, "and think any woman who would have certainly lost all idea of what is beautiful and womanly. The very thought of any woman in a harem skirt is abominable to me, for a bifurcated garment of any kind is bound to make a woman appear mannish. Even with the fullness with which some of them are made, they are still the harem skirt and are made even uglier by that meant-to-be improvement.

"If the women want to wear trousers, for goodness sake, let them put them on, their husbands or their brothers or their beaux, but the skirt that is not bifurcated suits me. I'd take the hobble skirt in preference any day, for it seems to me the most sensible after all, with no superfluous pleats and folds and gathers, but just enough material to give the proper lines to the figure and be comfortable for walking."

HEIRESS AT THE MERCY OF WILL'S EXECUTORS

Mrs. Frances Ellen Burke-Roche Must Avoid Seeing Husband if She Would Be Sure of Income

NEW YORK, April 29.—Mrs. Frances Ellen Burke-Roche, daughter of Frank Work, who died recently, is left at the mercy of her father's executors under the terms of his will filed for probate. Through 18 codicils Work voiced his disapproval of her matrimonial career.

Other codicils made after her separation from James Jaffray Burke-Roche direct that she shall receive $70,000 a year on condition that she has no further dealings with him and remain away from England during his lifetime. They provide also that he shall not inherit a penny of the Work millions.

About the time Mrs. Burke-Roche's name was coupled with that of Aurel Batonyi a codicil was added, threatening to reduce her share to $12,000 a year unless she relinquished interest in horses and horse shows. Later Work related and increased his daughter's bequest to $80,000 a year. A codicil appended after her marriage to the coaching whip revokes all provisions in his will conferring any interest in his property to Mrs. Burke-Roche, and another directs the executors to provide for her support if she should separate from Batonyi.

Later Mrs. Burke-Roche's three children were left the residuary estate, conditional on their becoming United States citizens, eschewing all relations with their father and adopting the name of Work.

Queen Mary Bars Hobble Skirt

LONDON, April 29.—Queen Mary has stirred up a hornet's nest by banishing all tight or hobble skirts from her august presence. Gentlemen of the court in the royal motor called on all smart dressmakers in Hanover square and Bond street today and stated to the managers:

"We are authorized to inform you that the lord chamberlain commands that no tight skirts shall be worn at court, by order of her gracious majesty."

The dressmakers were further asked to convey this intimation to their customers. The word "court" here refers to all functions attended by royalty—not only the state drawing rooms, where tight skirts make it impossible for women to curtsy, but also to royal Ascot and afternoon functions where the queen is present.

There is great indignation among the women of the smart set because the queen by this order implies that society is lacking in modesty and discretion, and they declare that this attempt to dictate the fashions by royal decree will make the lord chamberlain skirt censor of the coronation season.

Suffrage to Bring About Peace?

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 29.—Baron d'Estournelles de Constant sees in woman suffrage a powerful factor for international friendship. In an interview he said:

"Every autocratic government fears woman and her influence. She is the obstacle which autocracy sometimes finds in its path. No government, tyranny, no policy of exploitation and conquest is conceivable in a country where woman is free. Our literature bears witness that woman is the real obstacle to the spirit of conquest."

"The influence of woman today is spreading. Disregarding a few dolls, or caricatures, which are inevitable and negligible, this influence of woman is constantly working against war. Anything that tends to emancipate woman helps the movement for international peace. For this reason I believe in the ballot for women."

Countess Caught on Fire-Escape

NEW YORK, April 29.—Countess Elia Festetics, whose marital troubles with Count de Festetics have brought them both into the courts and into jails within the last ten years, was arrested at her home, 214 West Eighty-second street, on a New Jersey warrant charging her with perjury. The perjury charge is based on an affidavit made by her in the New Jersey courts in an action against her husband.

The Countess was arrested as she was climbing down a fire escape clad in a kimono. The action brought by the Countess in which she is alleged to have made the perjured statement was to restrain her husband from moving the body of their son, Arthur, from Hillside Cemetery, Elmwood, N. J. She signed an affidavit that a charge of kidnapping she had made against her husband had been dismissed in New York by Magistrate Wahle, whereas the kidnapping charge was made in the Supreme Court of New Jersey and was beyond the police magistrate's jurisdiction. The Countess was held in $2500 bail to await extradition papers from New York.

Weds High Priest of Bab

LONDON, April 29.—Miss Laura Barney, daughter of the venerable bride of young Christian D. Hemmick, has done the expected in marrying Hippolyte Dreyfus, high priest of the worshippers of the Persian god Bab and the followers of Baha.

The civil ceremony took place in the office of the Mairie of the Sixteenth Arrondissement, near the bride's home. Dreyfus appeared in evening dress instead of in his white robes of office.

Many leading Bahaists were present, including Mrs. James Jackson of New York, Mrs. Faith Chevalier of Los Angeles, Nathalie Barney, a sister of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Hemmick.

Mrs. Heinze Loses Income

NEW YORK, April 29.—The $300 a month alimony that Berdice Golden Henderson Heinze has been receiving from her divorced husband since September, 1907, has been cut off by Justice Blanchard. The former Mrs. Henderson married T. Augustus Heinze on August 31, 1910. The modified decree provides that Mrs. Henderson's daughter by the first marriage shall receive $125 a month from her father.

Took Three Weddings to Tie This Couple

KANSAS CITY.—After being married twice by proxy, he in Kansas City and she in Holland, Wilhelm Asjes and his bride were married again Wednesday in New York City and arrived in Kansas City happy that the three weddings had united them for all time. It took them four months to become husband and wife. And, if it had not been for John T. Johnston of the National Reserve Bank, of this city, and Queen Wilhelmina of Holland, they would not have been married yet.

Queen Wilhelmina came to take a personal interest, because of an immigration law which restricts the coming of single women to this country.

Asjes was engaged to marry Katrina when he left Holland, and he promised to send for her as soon as he got a job.

Lawyers were consulted and they said Katrina would have to be married before she could get past Ellis Island.

But Wilhelm was too poor to go across the Atlantic for her. Finally a lawyer suggested they could be married by proxy, which was done.

Dr. Johnston married Wilhelm to one of his stenographers in his private office in the bank that Katrina was married to a man friend of Wilhelm in Holland. But the immigration officials refused to recognize this marriage. Then Dr. Johnston appealed to the Dutch Consul in Washington and he wrote an affidavit in which he stated that he had told the Queen of Holland all about it. Her Majesty, having married for love herself, sent for Katrina and gave her a letter in the royal handwriting, to the immigration officials in New York.

With that letter Katrina came to New York and Wilhelm met her there. However, before the immigration officials would let them leave Ellis Island they sent for a minister and saw them married according to law.

DIES AS A ROYAL FLUSH WINS

CHICAGO.—Laura Cotton, daughter of Henry E. Cotton of the Deering Harvester Company, while employed as a stenographer by the Equity Finance Company, became engaged to a young man. One day he told her he was in a serious predicament and needed money. Miss Cotton took $100 or more from the company's safe. A day or two later her fiancé disappeared and Miss Cotton borrowed money from her father to make good the shortage. The company did not know of the transaction.

Miss Cotton worried over the matter, her health failed and she was compelled to resign. From time to time she gave her father, who alone knew her secret, sums of money in repayment of the loan.

Miss Cotton, her father and mother, and J. Mann, a friend of the family, played poker last night, and she was a steady winner. Finally Miss Cotton whispered to her father that if she won she would be enabled to wipe out her indebtedness to him. She drew a royal flush, and as she put out her hand to take her winnings, fell off her chair, dead.

It was charged by the Bennett faction that a check of $100 had been used to buy votes for Miss Haskins. It was alleged that several of the students were a party to this transaction.

No sooner was this allegation made by the Bennett side than a similar one came from the Hastings faction. Threats are made that the case will be laid before the University faculty, but meanwhile Miss Haskins' friends assert she has been elected and will serve as Queen of the May.

HIGH FINANCE ALLEGED BY CO-EDS

SALEM, Ore.—Following the recent election of Miss Alma Haskins as Queen of the May at Willamette University over Miss Theodosia Bennett, fierce factional war has broken out among members of the respective societies and the student body, with the result that recriminations have passed and startling allegations of high finance methods in electioneering have been flung.

Miss Haskins represents the Odelante Society and Miss Bennett the Philodorian Society.

MANY MARRIAGES MAY BE ILLEGAL

CHICAGO.—Thousands of marriage ceremonies performed in Chicago since December 1, 1905, may be illegal, or at least subject to question and court review, in the opinion of County Judge J. E. Owens, who instructed County Attorney Tatge to begin an investigation into the right of justices of the peace elected in districts outside of the city limits to perform marriage ceremonies in Chicago.

The outside justices have offices in Chicago for marrying purposes. Justices in Chicago were abolished five years ago by substitution of municipal courts based on State law.

holding that these marriages are illegal," said Judge Owens. "Yet questions as to their validity are continually arising in my court, and I am convinced that, for the sake of the thousands of people so vitally concerned, the matter should be settled at once and for all time."

BURNS WIFE'S GOWN TO KEEP HER HOME

OXFORD, Neb.—There may be a divorce in the Burns family, but if there is not, Mrs. Henry Burns, in the future will devote more time to her domestic duties and less to social and club affairs. At least, she has so promised her husband.

For years Mrs. Burns has been prominent in club affairs and, according to the statements of her husband, by reason thereof, he has been forced to eat numerous cold dinners and spend many of his evenings at home alone.

Henry Burns is a thoroughly domestic man, and for a long time he has been evolving a scheme by which he might keep his wife at home. The other day he hit upon an idea. His wife had spent the afternoon at the meeting of the Home Cooking Club and was late in returning home. When she did arrive, Burns greeted her with smiles and invited her to the dining room, where the evening meal had been prepared by himself. After supper Burns remarked:

"Ophelia, I wish you would give up some of the club duties."

"Never," remarked the wife. "They are the joy of my life."

There was nothing more said about club work, but after Mrs. Burns had retired Burns gathered up every dress she possessed, took them out into the backyard and saturated them with kerosene. Then awakened his wife and called her to the back door.

"Ophelia, do you still insist upon doing that club work?" he asked. She assured him that she did, whereupon he applied a light match to the pile of clothing, which soon went up in smoke.

RACE SUICIDE BRANDED CRUELTY

RENO, Nev.—If a woman believes in "race suicide" and her husband does not, and she persists in an observance of her belief, it constitutes extreme cruelty and is sufficient grounds for divorce if proven to the satisfaction of the court, according to a ruling handed down by Judge T. F. Moran in overruling the demurrer of Mrs. Sarah P. Matney of Azusa, Cal., to her husband's complaint. Matney accused his wife of desertion and cruelty. The cruelty allegation was that his wife was opposed to the Rooseveltian ideas. The wife demurred on

SHE'S YOUNGEST GRANDMOTHER

DENVER.—Mrs. Susie Hurley, wife of Frank Hurley, a laborer, is believed to be the youngest grandmother in the country. She is 29 years old. The lusty grandson was born February 20. His name is Edward, and he is the son of William Beatty, a cook, and Mrs. Flossie Hurley Beatty, eldest daughter of Mrs. Hurley. The girl-mother is 15 years old.

A blue-eyed, brown-haired, girlish young woman was about to enter the house at 1309 South Navajo street yesterday just as a Times representative arrived. She was carrying a baby snugled in a blanket to shield it from the breeze. One would have guessed her age as 21.

"I am Mrs. Hurley," she replied in answer to a question. The newspaper man had been prepared to meet a young woman, but not apparently a mere girl.

"Are you a grandmother?" he asked, smiling.

"Yes; don't I look it?" she answered, laughing, showing a set of beautiful white teeth and two dimpled cheeks.

"Is that the grandchild?" asked the caller, pointing at the bundle in her arms.

"No; this is his uncle—my youngest child," she said.

Mrs. Hurley led the way to the house and introduced her daughter, who was holding her baby in her lap. The two looked like sisters.

"We are sisters," said Mrs. Hurley. "We were children together. I am older, that's all. I was only a little over 12 when I was married. My husband was a soldier in the Seventh regiment, then at Fort Logan."

"I am the mother of nine—five boys and four girls. Two of the boys and three of the girls are living. Flossie is the eldest. Her sister is one year younger. My second last baby and my last were only eleven months apart."

"I was born in Charleston, S. C., December 20, 1881, but I have lived in Denver since I was a little girl. My husband is ten years older than I."

"The girls and I have been such 'kids' that we all refer to my husband as the old man and tell him he is old-fashioned. He is only 39 now. Pretty young grandfather, isn't he?"

Mrs. Susie Hurley was born December 20, 1881; married January 7, 1894; first daughter born October 4, 1895; first daughter married April 8, 1910; grandson born February 20, 1911.

SHE GETS $1500 FOR HICCUGHS

NEW YORK.—Because she established that she suffered almost constantly from hiccoughs, as the result of a trolley car accident, $1500 was awarded a woman as damages by a jury in the Hudson county Court at Jersey City. Mrs. Sarah Cohen, of Cypress avenue, The Bronx, was the plaintiff and she sued jointly the Public Service Corporation and the Millard Construction Company. She was a passenger on a trolley car on the Paysona avenue line on May 13, 1908, when the car bumped into a dummy engine belonging to the construction company.

Mrs. Cohen testified that since the accident she had been subject daily to attacks of hiccoughs, and produced several physicians to corroborate her. She sued for $10,000.

BURIES DOG NEAR HIS WIFE'S GRAVE

NORTHAMPTON, Mass.—Because George Phelps, an old citizen of Easthampton, has buried a pet dog near his wife's grave in the family lot in the principal cemetery in the town and proposes to erect a tombstone over its grave, there is great commotion among the people who have relatives buried in the cemetery. The trustees of the cemetery have been appealed to and action is

Feared Her Daughter

KANSAS CITY (Mo.).—Does constant bathing turn a girl into an aquatic creature with dorsal fins? A mother, whose daughter was recently taken from her by order of the Juvenile Court and placed under control of the Y. W. C. A., thinks it will, judging from a letter written to Judge E. E. Porterfield of the Juvenile Court. The letter read: "Mr. Judge, I hear they are keeping my girl at a place they call the Y. W. C. A., trying to make an athlete out of her; besides they make her take baths three times a week. She ain't no fish. Can't you give her back to me before she is ruined?" The judge replied, stating his belief that the State could take much better care of the girl than her mother could.

Mother the Spanker

CINCINNATI.—A father is the breadwinner and not the disciplinarian of a family, Judge John A. Caldwell, of the Juvenile Court ruled. He held, furthermore, that the father has no right to spank or otherwise punish his children unless the mother cannot perform that duty in addition to doing her other household work.

"You work and keep your family in food and clothing," the judge told Henry Richter, Richter's son, thirteen years old, was on trial on a delinquency charge. The mother had testified that the father had punished the boy and that the lad had stayed away from home, fearing his father's wrath.

GIRL CHARGED WITH SENDING THREATENING LETTERS TO M. D.

NEW YORK.—Miss Lydia Smith, an attractive young woman, giving her address at 12 Pineapple street, Brooklyn, appeared before Magistrate O'Connor, in Harlem court, in answer to a summons sworn out by Dr. C. F. W. Horn of 230 West One Hundred and Twenty-seventh street.

Dr. Horn charged that since April 1 Miss Smith had been writing letters of a threatening nature to him. He appeared to be extremely reluctant about giving further details about these letters.

After some urging by Magistrate O'Connor, he said that in the letters

Miss Smith demanded that he set right a wrong which she alleged he had done her. One of the letters, he said, contained the threat:

"Your time has come."

Miss Smith was accompanied by her attorney, Miss Bertha Rembaum, of No. 1 Broadway. Miss Rembaum had some difficulty with a court attendant before she could get into her legal stride over the question of whether she should be allowed to wear her Paris hat in court. She finally removed the offending hat, and informed the Magistrate that Miss Smith denied having written threatening letters to Dr. Horn.

She said the doctor and not her client

OAKLAND CHILDREN MAKE MERRY AT PLAYGROUNDS

FIRST SPRING FESTIVAL IS HELD

Crowning of Queen Myra the First Is Occasion of Importance.

May-Pole Dance Indulged in by Several Hundred Girls.

With a flag-raising ceremony by the children of all the playgrounds of this city, the first annual May-day festival to be conducted under the auspices of the Oakland Playground Commission opened today at 1:30 in De Fremery Park playground, Sixteenth and Poplar streets. Boys and girls representing the public schools of Oakland engaged in the games of the day, which included races of all description. Folk dancing was one of the interesting features.

The crowning of the queen, Miss Myra Lemmer, gave dignity to the festival. Her retinue of pretty court ladies and pages was a notable phase of the coronation service. Several hundred dainty girls appeared in the May-pole dance, which followed the crowning of Queen Myra the First.

DE FREMERY CROWDED.

About 400 boys and girls attended the festival in the De Fremery Park. It was one of the largest gatherings ever held in that pleasure resort, which is one of the most popular playgrounds in this city.

PARADE POSSE ALARM RACE

Star-Gazers View Phenomenon That Occurs Once in 1000 Years.

PASADENA, Cal., April 29.—The expert star-gazers of the Lick Observatory were all huddled and busy yesterday making ready the instruments they will use today to photograph the phenomenon of a thousand years—a "dress parade" of the planets.

Earth, Jupiter, Saturn and the sun will occupy positions in the line of sight, under the unusual conditions of light, new characteristics of them may be noted.

"It is figured that the direct rays of the sun being taken from the planets, they will present a difference appearance."

Jupiter is next removed of the three from the earth, Saturn has its orbit beyond that of Jupiter, counting from the sun as the center of the universe.

Professor Adams Dr. Malo, in charge of the Carnegie Observatory on Mount Wilson, declares the incident of alignment of planets purely accidental.

"It means nothing in particular, despite the fact that it occurs but once in a thousand years," said Prof. Adams.

"But we will take particular efforts to get good pictures of the planets as, under the unusual conditions of light, new characteristics of them may be noted."

ALAMOSA, Colo., April 29.—Failing to secure money on a check said to be worthless last night, Vethal Bloomfield, a sign painter, fired two shots at his wife and blew out his own brains.

Mrs. Bloomfield had her young baby in her arms when the first bullet struck her on the head. As she fell she dropped the child, but before it touched the floor it was caught by her 12-year-old son, who ran with it from the house, fearing his father meant to slay them all. Mrs. Bloomfield was not badly hurt.

Punctured by Charge of Bird-Shot, Crank Hides in Woods.

HOPEWELL, N. J., April 29.—The entire masculine population of this village is searching the vicinity today for a "peeping Tom" who has disturbed the quiet community for several weeks and for the last twenty-four hours has been wandering at large, well punctured by a charge of birdshot fired by one of the principal citizens.

Hopewell has been in terror for the last month over stories of a man who made a practice of ascending to second-story windows at night by means of a ladder.

The 18-year-old daughter of Edward Waters, a township official, heard a scraping sound at her window late Thursday night and watched while the top of a ladder appeared at the window. Then she quietly called her father.

He seized a double-barreled shotgun, and in his bare feet dashed out on the lawn. The man had taken alarm and was running away when Waters appeared and fired. The charge struck the fugitive and he fell in the roadway.

A moment later he regained his footing and fled across the fields. Poses began the search for him at daybreak. The police believe he is in hiding in the woods near the town.

Shabby Man Demands Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, Saying He's Her Husband.

NEW YORK, April 29.—There was no end of excitement in the Hotel Plaza today, to which Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont was an unwitting contributory cause.

A shabby man, who said he had no home and gave his name to the police as James Burke, would not take the word of the clerks that Mrs. Belmont was not in the hotel. He was shown to the door, but re-entered, found his way to the second floor and was caught trying the doors. When he saw the house detectives coming he ran to a hall window opening on the roof of the dining-room, let himself down to the roof, clambered over it to another hall window, where he was overtaken as he was climbing into the corridor. When the detectives laid hands on him Burke fought like a madman and shouted Mrs. Belmont's name until it could be heard in the streets. Overpowered, he was arrested and taken to a police station.

"What made you think Mrs. Belmont was in?" asked the magistrate when Burke was arraigned.

"Why, Mrs. Belmont is my wife. I guess a man ought to know where his wife is," replied the prisoner.

He was fined $10 and, lacking the money, went to prison.

NEW YORK, April 29.—Mrs. Margaret Daly Brown, daughter of the late Marcus Daly and wife of H. C. Brown, a banker, died early today at her mother's home on Fifth avenue.

Mrs. Brown's death occurred within a few hours after her arrival on a special car which brought her on a fast train from Montana. Her husband, a mother and other members of her family were at the bedside.

Mrs. Brown was taken ill in Anaconda, Mont., whether she had gone two weeks ago. The high altitude, it was said, imposed a strain on her heart and it was deemed advisable to bring her to New York at once. A special car left Anaconda on Tuesday with physicians and nurses.

Brown met the returning party at Chicago. They reached this city last evening, when physicians said Mrs. Brown's condition was very critical.

Mrs. Brown was married in 1901 and inherited several million dollars on the death of her father.

GIRL ACCUSES JOY REIGNS AT AN OAKLAND CARNIVAL'S
DOCTOR CLOSE

Eva Lane's Attempt at Suicide Fails; Blames Action to J. L. McLaren.

Moaning With Pain, Victim of Poison Tells Story of Alleged Relations.

Moaning that she still retains her infatuation for Dr. J. L. McLaren over whose alleged treatment she declares she was led to attempt suicide in his offices in the Thayer building, Fourteenth and Jefferson streets, yesterday afternoon, the 20-year-old Finnish girl who gives her name as Eva Lane, lies on a cot in the receiving hospital suffering from lysol burns.

In a broken accent she declares that the physician took advantage of her after she had gone to him for treatment last August and that ever since she has, at his request, been a frequent caller at his office and that she had acquired a mad infatuation for him which she retained even after he told her that he was married and had a family.

"About three years ago I came to New York from Finland," she said today, "and later on came to Oakland in company with my sister, who lives at 2220 Seventh street, West Berkeley. I will have lived in Oakland two years in July. It was while I was working for Mrs. Hicks in Berkeley that I first met Dr. McLaren. I had a pain in my side and Mrs. Hicks referred me to him and told me that he was a good doctor."

"I called at his office and he said I would have to undergo an operation before I would obtain relief. This I consented to. It was performed and he told me to call again. It was nearly three months later that he first began to get familiar with me."

OPPOSED MARRIAGE.

"I was going with a young man at the time and we thought a good deal of each other, but the doctor told me that I did not want to get married—that he liked me too much. He said, 'If you do get married I want you to come and see me in the same way as I have been doing.' Then he said he had no more to do with the Finnish boy and kept calling on the doctor. Some times I would go every other day and sometimes only twice a week. I would telephone him before I would go to the office. We always met at the office."

"Then when he told me that he had a wife and family, I was not going to see him any more, but he said that he did not love his wife, and thought a great deal of me."

"A short time ago he told me that I had better go away, as he thought it would be better for me. Then he would have nothing more to do with me, so I thought I would end my life. I bought the little bottle of lysol and put it in my purse. Then I went to the office."

LARGER BOTTLE.

"He would not pay any attention to me, but took the bottle away. Later he put it back in my purse. When I told him I was going to take the poison he said: 'You don't need to take that little bottle; here is a larger one,' so I picked it up from the table and drank it. Now I wish I could die. I wish that he would come to see me."

When told that the doctor had left town she expressed a wish that he be arrested and prosecuted for his treatment of her.

The girl said that after she had taken the lysol that Dr. McLaren immediately applied an antidote and then left. It is said that he went to Mayfield, where he has a wife and family. He is about 60 years old and has a home at Thirteenth avenue and East Twenty-eighth street in this city.

PLEADS GUILTY TO GIRL'S CHARGE

Sailor to Be Given Life Imprisonment for Brutal Attack.

LOS ANGELES, April 29.—John Edwards, a sailor of 35 years, today pleaded guilty in Judge McCormick's department of the superior court to brutally assaulting Miss Julia Koebig at her father's home, which he had entered for the purpose of committing burglary.

Edwards will be sentenced next Tuesday and may receive life imprisonment. He was captured by detectives the day after the crime was committed, his guilt being first indicated by the finding of a small piece of a broken revolver handle in the room where the assault on Miss Koebig occurred.

The broken piece exactly fitted a revolver found in Edwards' room, and he quickly admitted that he had beaten his victim over the head with the pistol and was guilty of the crime charged.

Last Day of Livermore Fete Marked by Presence of Thousands.

Parade Is Feature of Celebration; Ball Will End the Festivities.

LIVERMORE, April 29.—The last day of the Druids' carnival has been the most successful of the undertaking, both with respect to attendance and the character and variety of the entertainment afforded the patrons. The affair will close tonight with a grand ball in Sweeney Opera House, which will be attended by a large number of people who desire to be on hand when the formal announcement of the closing of the festivities shall be made.

The opening feature of the ball will be the grand march, which will be led by their most gracious majesties, King Roy and Queen Jeannette.

People from all the surrounding towns began to arrive early this morning and before 10 there was a throng of visitors on the streets. The streets in the center of the town were lined with vehicles of all kinds.

The crowd was in buoyant spirits. The members had evidently come for the purpose of having a good time and took occasion to make that apparent. The merchants did a lively business along all lines.

No effort was required to find means of relaxation in the heart of town before the parade started, the hundred and one concessions were doing all the business they were able to do and people were in line waiting for their turn to enjoy the novelties which everywhere appealed to the visitor.

The music struck during the formation of the procession was a scene of great interest and activity. The fraternal societies made a magnificent appearance and were frequently cheered, especially those of them which were accompanied with floats, emblematic of their organizations.

LINE OF MARCH.

The line of march of the procession was down First street to K street, south to Third, thence to K, thence to Fourth, thence to J, then to Third, west on Third to L, north on L to First and east on First to the flagpole, the point of beginning, where the marchers were reviewed by the royal party and dismissed.

There were several bands of music in the line and these played inspiring airs, which added greatly to the martial spirit of the occasion. The marchers were marshaled by Dr. H. B. Mehrman of Oakland, who had as aides Lee Wells, William McDonald, M. Mulken, Fenner, J. Fallon, J. Seelin, J. Gallagher, C. Ferrario, W. H. Ryan, J. Conannon, J. Desmond and J. A. Kennedy. PLAYGROUNDS AND SEWERS URGED AS NEEDS

Berkeley Improvers Hold Enthusiastic Meeting for Bond Discussion.

SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT OUTLINES IMPROVEMENTS

Sewerage Conditions in West Berkeley Cause of Vigorous Denunciation.

BERKELEY, April 29.—At a mass meeting held under the auspices of the Conference Committee of Improvement Clubs in the Board of Education rooms last evening, the proposed municipal bond issue was the principal subject of discussion. Frank F. Bunker, city superintendent of schools, and City Engineer J. J. Jessup were the chief speakers.

North Grove Improvement Club had the largest representation in attendance, although all the improvers' organizations had delegations present.

The committee, after a discussion, decided that it would not formally endorse any of the proposals, but favored school improvements.

Chairman Victor Robertson of the conference committee, in calling the meeting to order, stated that the city was considering a bond issue of $1,340,000, which was to be voted upon May 6, that intelligent discrimination should prevail in voting, and that it was the purpose of the committee to get all the facts before it, so that the committee's action in the matter would be wise.

Superintendent of Schools F. F. Bunker, the first speaker, presented the needs of the school department.

He briefly summarized the five proposed improvements: $200,000 for the grammar schools; $50,000 for the high school; $30,000 for the small school playgrounds and $130,000 for the Bunnell tract. Bunnell spoke particularly of the importance of the playgrounds, which are the greatest items of greatest importance in the bond issue. In order to avoid a scattering vote, which might endanger all the projects.

CROWDED CONDITIONS.

He said that the items of greatest importance were those aggregating $400,000, which would be used to relieve the crowded conditions in the grammar and high schools; that, second to these came the small school playgrounds, and third, the Bunnell tract, which is greatly needed for the young people of the high school and of the Washington school. He stated further that he did not want the committee to feel that merely because he spoke only of the school needs that he did not believe the city had other and more important needs. As a school official, he said he was more familiar with the needs of that than of other departments.

James T. Preston of the playground commission called the committee on the need of the small school playgrounds. He pointed out how, by enlarging the school yards, more children would have access to the grounds than would have obtained had the commission been content with the present plan. He showed how the present plan was much more economical inasmuch as the basement facilities of the schools could be used, and also that the plant lent itself to better play in closer quarters, which, he asserted, was highly important in playground work.

Preston then itemized the expenditures which would be made under the proposal and, in response to a question, said that the estimated amounts had been arrived at only after careful consideration by the playground commission and based upon the advice of experts.

FAVORS BUNNELL TRACT.

Mrs. W. H. Marston, also of the playground commission, made a strong plea for the Bunnell tract. She said in part: "The term 'central playground,' which has been applied to the Bunnell tract, is misleading, for, in point of fact, the children who are using the tract are not in the center of the city, but are in the north end of the city, and the tract is in order that a school yard be provided for the young people of the high and Washington schools."

"In the first named school there are 1200 students without any place for play activities. In the Washington school there are 800 with very little yard space. This Bunnell tract is needed primarily for these 2000 students. Furthermore, there is no place now connected with the schools which is large enough for games such as baseball, football and basketball. The city needs this tract as the natural school yard for the 2000 children now unprovided with ground to play on."

In introducing City Engineer Jessup, Chairman Robertson said: "This committee is under distinct obligation to do all in its power to secure for the people of West Berkeley, adequate relief from the disastrous conditions under which they are living, in respect to the city's sewage."

JESSUP EXPLAINS.

City Engineer Jessup then told of the sewer situation and of the plans which his office had drawn up to provide relief. He showed how, when the city was young and limited in area to West Berkeley four-inch and six-inch sewers were placed in the streets, and as the city gradually grew outward no change was made in the small outlets, but that larger sewers in the newer tracts were made to empty into the small ones in West Berkeley. "A striking example of this condition obtains on Center street," said Jessup, "where the two and four inch and two ten-inch sewers, all coming together at Allison way, and being carried off to the bay by one six-inch line."

Jessup pointed out that in the summer the present sewage capacity is fairly adequate, but is not so in the winter. In consequence, from Shattuck avenue west, at many points, the sewage is forced through the manholes into the streets. He stated that his plan for relieving this condition is that of a system of intercepting sewers—lines running down Shattuck avenue and certain other streets crossing the main lines, thus conducting both sewage and storm waters to territory east of Shattuck avenue to the bay by independent lines, thus leaving present outfalls with a more limited territory to carry off.

One Conductor Helped Back to Work. Mr. Ward Adams is his name, and he writes: "I was confined to my bed with chronic rheumatism and used two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy with good effect. The third bottle put me on my feet and I resumed work as conductor on the Washington street car line. It cleared the blood of uric acid."—Washington street.

BOLT HALL OF LAW DEDICATED

Regent Charles S. Wheeler Talks on the Menace of Great Fortunes.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, April 29.—The $150,000 Boat hall of law, which is a part of the Phoebe Hearst architectural plan, was dedicated yesterday afternoon in the presence of well-known attorneys of the bay cities and university faculties.

Attorney Charles S. Wheeler of San Francisco, recently appointed a regent of the University, delivered the dedicatory address, Professor William Carey Jones, head of the law department of the University, and the president of the University, making the addresses.

Regent Wheeler paid tribute to Judge Boat, in whose memory the building was erected, characterizing him as one of the greatest judges in the history of the State. His address was centered on the strength and fitness of the American written law, with special praise for the Constitution of the United States.

"All of our law, in a certain sense, is written law, both national and State. Our whole social life of organized society, finds its sanction in the written law. He declared that specific provisions are sometimes made for special occasions which may occur, but that even the common law is governed by the great common law. He declared that law is above property. In this connection he pointed out what the law could do to ward the prevention of the amassing of great fortunes.

He declared that the State could declare void. He stated that in view of the fact that the State has the right to legislate against public men, he declared that the State has the right to legislate against big fortunes, it could legislate against big fortunes.

REP. KENT SPOUTS POETRY IN HOUSE

Congressman From California
Waxes Warm on Tariff Question.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The feature of yesterday's debate on the free list bill now pending before the House was the maiden speech of Representative Kent of California, who succeeded Duncan McKinlay. He said that with other novices in the House he felt sure he had absorbed speeches until he had "learned much that cannot possibly be true," and that the Congressional Record was filled with a mass of mathematics "proving what is logically absurd."

"I am a Republican," Kent observed, "because I believe in the protection of infant industries and stand some eventual chance of becoming self-sustaining. But many industries, having outgrown the cradle, have not been required to hustle for their livelihood, but have been carried bodily to a ward in the hospital where our standpat friends advocate keeping them during all eternity, to be doctored, nursed and nourished at the public expense."

Kent read a "poem, produced by a laureate of my district," concerning the tariff speeches of Duncan McKinlay at the primaries. It ran:

ODE TO MCKINLAY'S SPEECHES.

He makes it clear to me
That what I lose, I gain, you see;
And on such things as clothes and shoes
I seem to gain, but really lose.

Thus, if I buy my socks too low,
They'll still be higher, he says so;
And shoes, I thought were high last fall,
Were really low shoes after all.

If I pay less for shoes or hats
The maker has to lose,
And if he loses, then you see
He charges up the loss to me.

Now, when I have to pay him more
He reckons profits in his store,
And Duncan finds a share for me
In all of his prosperity.

The speeches shed a radiant light
Upon the theme and made it bright;
I merely read them over and over,
To find more's less and less is more.

In buying hats or coat or vest,
Dear's cheap and cheap is dear at best;
High's low, low's high, far's near, near's far,
White's black, black's white, and there you are.

PASTOR URGES NEW DECALOGUE

Revision of Ten Commandments Proposed by Rev. Mr. Douglas.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Revision of the ten commandments—the original and shortened form—was urged by the Rev. George B. William Douglas, canon of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine of New York, upon the twenty-ninth congress of the Protestant Episcopal Church. The Rev. Mr. Douglas's view created a mild sensation among the attending clergymen and delegates.

"Let us have the courage," he said, "to restore our prayerbook version of the ten commandments to what scholars are pretty well agreed was the original and shorter form, and let us drop the inflated clauses wherewith some ancient scribes spoiled the magnificent proportions of the decalogue."

The following revision of the Ten Commandments is that urged by the Rev. William Douglas:

1. God spake these words and said: I am the Lord, thy God; thou shalt have none other gods but me.
2. Thou shalt not make to thyself any graven image to worship and serve it.
3. Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain.
4. Remember that thou keep holy the Sabbath day. Six days shalt thou labor.
5. Honor thy father and thy mother.
6. Thou shalt do no murder.

MERRYMAKERS SEE ELEPHANT KILL MAN

DIXON, Mo., April 29.—Hundreds of persons saw an infuriated elephant hurl its trainer into the air and then, after crushing him with its weight, repeatedly pierce the body with its tusks.

The tragedy came while James Hildebrand, the trainer, was endeavoring to put Monte, the smallest elephant with the Kit Carson Wild West Show, into a car.

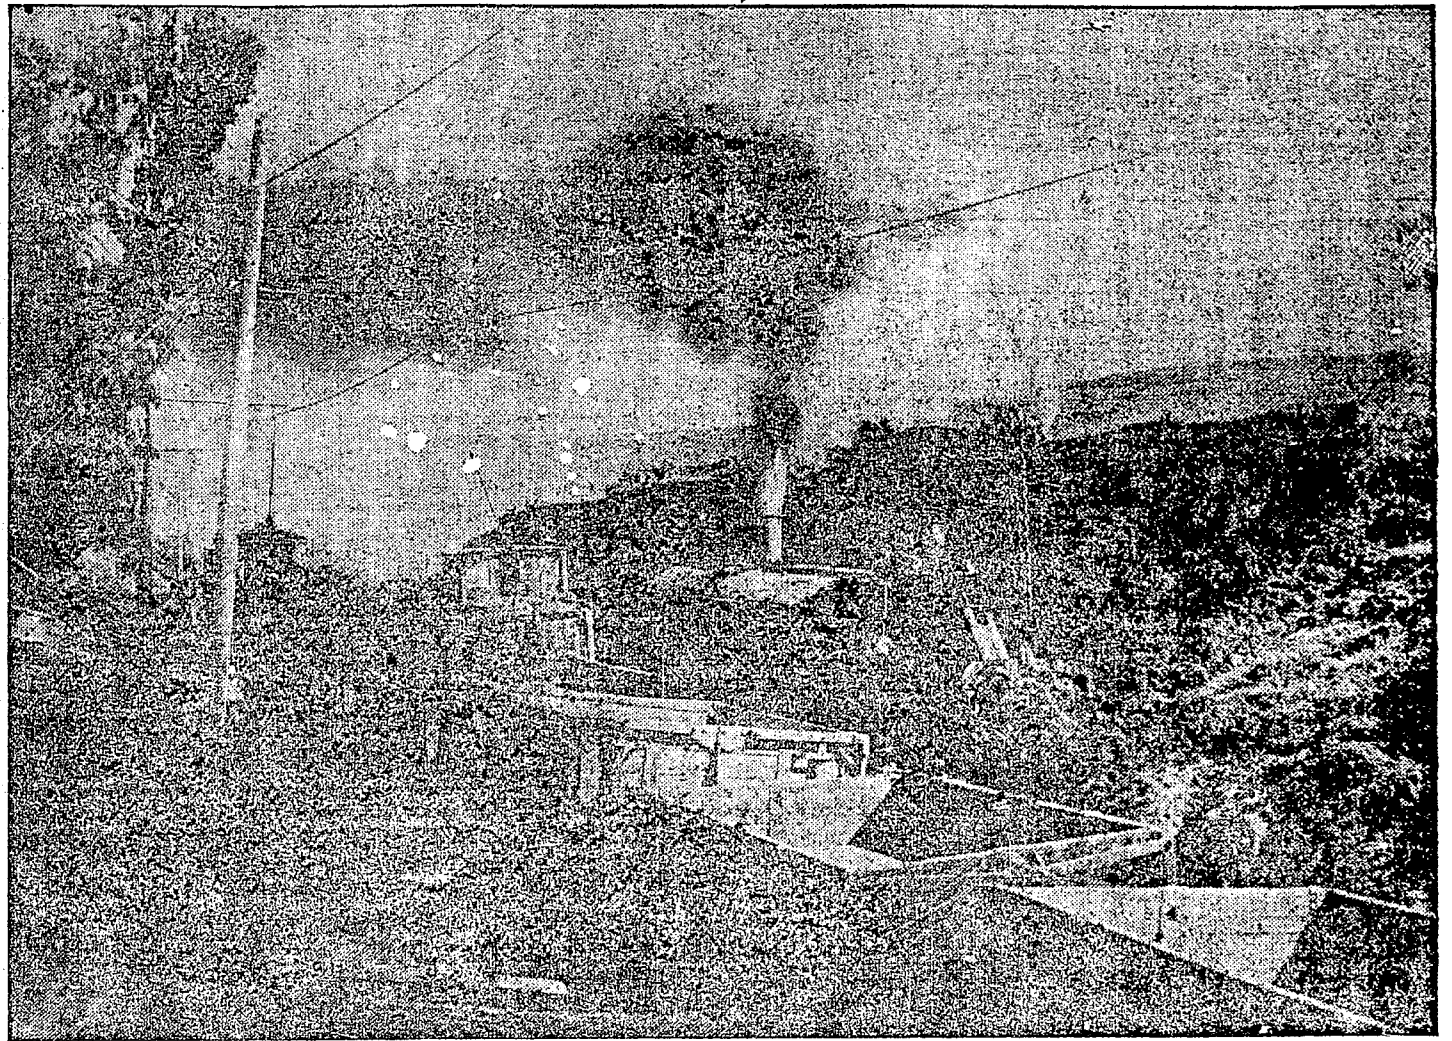

Hildebrand screamed for help, but while the onlookers stood overcome with horror, Monte dashed the man to the ground.

Then it dragged the body thirty feet along the railroad tracks into the yards and repeatedly thrust its tusks into the lifeless form. Women among the spectators fainted.

A Reliable Medicine—NOT A NARCOTIC Mrs. F. Marti, St. Joe, Mich., says: "Our little boy contracted a severe bronchial trouble and as the doctor's medicine did not cure him, I gave him Foley's Honey and Tar Compound in which I have great faith. It cured the cough as well as the choking and gagging spells, and he got well in a short time. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has many times saved us much trouble and we are never without it in the house." Wishart's Drug Store, corner Tenth and Washington streets.

PREFERRED DEATH
TO RECONCILIATIONMrs. James L. Bailey Declares
She Will Throw Herself in Bay.

When the case of Mrs. James L. Bailey, who is suing her husband for divorce on the ground of cruelty, came up before Judge Ogden yesterday afternoon she declared that rather than consent to a reconciliation she would "throw herself in the bay."

Among the items of her complaint were charges that Bailey had incited the two children to kick their mother on the shins and that he had used profane language in their presence.

Bailey asserted on the stand that he was ready to re-open their former home at 1300 Tenth street and provide for his wife and the children if she would return.

The court thought there was sufficient grounds for divorce and an interlocutory decree was granted with alimony.

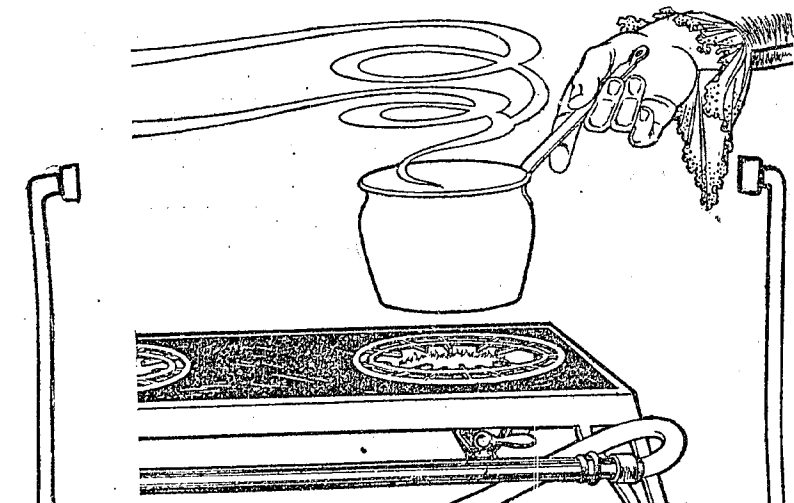

Bailey said that he was a "pump man," and made on an average of $25 a week. The mother was awarded the custody of the children.

AUTOS REPLACE CABS.

CHICAGO, April 29.—Announcement has been made by the Frank Parmelee Transfer Company that beginning Monday it will do away entirely with its cabs and carriages in use at the various railroad terminals in Chicago and substitute therefor an automobile service handled by uniformed chauffeurs.

SAVED HIS MOTHER'S LIFE.

"Four doctors had given me up," writes Mrs. Laura Gaines, of Avoca, Ill., "and my children and all my friends were looking for me to die, when my son insisted that I use Electric Bitters. I did so, and they have done me a world of good. I will always praise them." Electric Bitters is a priceless blessing to women troubled with fainting and dizzy spells, backache, headache, nervous debility, constipation or kidney disorders. Use them and gain new health, strength and vigor. They're guaranteed to satisfy or money refunded. Only 50c at Osgood Bros.

Today no efficient architect will design a plan, whether it be for a towering skyscraper or a modest home, without piping the building for gas in addition to the electric wiring.

Gas is the greatest help the modern housewife knows. The woman who has once used a gas range or gas water heater will never be without them.

Men like Welsbach have given gas a new place in the lighting field, increasing its efficiency and reducing its already low cost.

To furnish you with a superior illuminating and heating gas at a minimum cost is the purpose of the

FORMER OFFICIAL
FACES CHARGESGeo. E. Searcey Indicted, Accused of $1412 Shortage in Books.

MARTINEZ, April 29.—An unexplained shortage in his accounts of $1412.64 resulted in the indictment and arrest yesterday of George E. Searcey, former tax collector of Contra Costa county.

Searcey gave up office at the end of last year. In looking over the records W. W. Joost, the incumbent, noticed that taxes amounting to $1412.64 were due from the Peoples Water Company. He notified the corporation to that effect and the latter returned with a receipted bill for that amount, covering the tax.

Searcey declared he did not know what had become of the money. The grand jury took the case up and returned an indictment against the former official, charging him with embezzlement.

He was arrested at his home and his bond placed at $5000.

"The money," said Searcey, "was re-accepted by P. H. Cunningham. There is a mistake somewhere, and I feel sure that I will be able to clear myself."

STORK MAKES PLEA.

SACRAMENTO, April 29.—For the purpose of swelling the birth rate statistics for the last five years, the San Francisco health board has applied to the state board of health asking for permission to file for record births for the years 1906, 1907, 1908, 1909 and 1910. It is explained that during those years many births in San Francisco were not recorded following the fire, and that they are now coming in.

A prudent mother is always on the watch for symptoms of worms in her children. Pale skin, lack of interest in play, and peevishness is the signal for WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE. A few doses of this excellent remedy put an end to the worms and the child soon acts naturally. Price 25c per bottle. Sold by Wishart's Drug Store, Tenth and Washington streets.

EVANGELIST HERE,
TO SPREAD FAITH
THROUGHOUT CITY

REV. C. R. HAUDENSCHILD, evangelist, who is in Oakland.

The campaign in progress at the Eighth Avenue Methodist church is a notable one. Each day the past week the attendance at the many services has increased, and the interest in the work developed, and the prospect for next week is bright. C. R. Haudenschild, the central figure of the campaign, is a man of remarkable power and personality. Of splendid physical proportions, he is keen and powerful in statement, apt and witty in turning an argument, powerful in his presentation of the truth. Above all, he is a preacher of the Scriptures. They live in new power under his presentation.

The afternoon Bible lectures are attracting much attention. The past week they have been on "The Power of the Word." Beginning Tuesday at 2:30 "Hindrances to Prayer" will be the theme. The chorus work in the evening services is a conspicuous feature. Rev. Mr. Haudenschild takes personal supervision of this work, and makes it very attractive. The evening services will continue each evening next week at 7:45 except Saturday.

During the week from five to eight services have been held daily, taking the time of three preachers and a large number of lay workers. Tomorrow more than twenty meetings will be held in different parts of the parish, the chief ones being in the church at Eighth avenue and East Seventeenth street at 11 a. m., when Mr. Haudenschild speaks on "True Conversion," and at 7:30, when his subject is "The Law of God."

LABOR TROUBLE
SHAKES CHICAGO45,000 Workmen Involved in Wage and Jurisdictional Controversies.

CHICAGO, April 29.—As "May Day" approaches, Chicago's industrial horizon is more clouded than it has been for several years. Wage disputes and jurisdictional controversies involving more than 45,000 men provide a disturbing factor and may result in a number of strikes and lockouts next week.

In point of numbers the building trades war is the most serious of the impending labor difficulties. Following is a list of organizations where trade agreements or threatened lockouts are impending:

Building trades (threatened lockout): 35,000; freight handlers, 5000; bricklayers, 2500; railroad track laborers, 2000; bakers, 400; machinery movers, 350; total 45,250.

Meetings of various unions and employers were held today to make the final efforts to reach an understanding before strikes are ordered.

MOTORCYCLISTS PLACE
BOYCOTT ON SAN JOSE

SAN JOSE, April 29.—San Jose business people will lose patronage amounting to $100 a Sunday, according to officials of the San Francisco Motorcycle Club, who have sent an announcement to this city that the club has boycotted San Jose as a resort for club runs. The letter sent here says:

"A strong protest has been made to this organization complaining of the numerous arrests made by members of the police force of your city of automobilists and motorcyclists for exceeding the speed limit, and it has been proved to the satisfaction of this organization that many of the arrests are wholly uncalled for. For this reason we have decided to keep away from San Jose entirely until such time as conditions alter themselves and we can tour Santa Clara county without fear of being held up by a police officer."

THE SOUND SLEEP OF GOOD HEALTH Cannot be over-estimated, and any ailment that prevents it is a menace to health. J. L. Southern, Eau Claire, Wis., says: "I have been unable to sleep soundly nights, because of pains across my back and soreness of my kidneys. My appetite was very poor and my general condition was much run down. I have been taking Foley Kidney Pills but a short time and now sleep as sound as a rock, my general condition is greatly improved, and I know that Foley Kidney Pills have cured me." Wishart's Drug Store, corner Tenth and Washington streets.

ABANDON U. S. CRUISERS
FOR 5 SHORT MINUTES

SAN DIEGO, April 29.—For five minutes yesterday the three vessels comprising the first division of the Pacific fleet were totally abandoned. It was during the fire drill, when under orders from the commanders all hands took to the boats, just as if a real fire were in progress, and left the three cruisers without a soul on board.

The three cruisers that left for the Coronado islands, where the "man overboard" and fire drills were gone through, were the California, South Dakota and Maryland. The division was under the command of Rear Admiral Thomas.

Detachable. Pare-down, $15. Chalmers "30" Touring Car, $1500

There are Four Main Elements of Safety in a Motor Car

These are the frame, the wheels, the steering connections and the brakes. Examine all cars critically on these points.

Chalmers frames are made of the best pressed steel. They are stronger and heavier than the frames of any other cars of the same total weight. These frames are made to sustain many times the weight which they are called upon to carry when assembled in Chalmers cars. The double drop in the frame brings the car close to the ground and makes it hang well to the road.

Chalmers wheels are built of the best second-growth hickory and are extremely heavy. The rear wheel spokes are bolted to the brake drums as well as to the hub flanges. Like every other part of the Chalmers car, the wheels are built to stand the strain.

The steering knuckles, connections and steering arms of the Chalmers are of forged steel of a weight and strength not found on other medium-priced cars. The steering cross rod is placed BEHIND the front axle out of harm's way.

The foot or service brake on the Chalmers is of the contracting type and is very large and powerful. The rear wheels of Chalmers cars are equipped with metal to metal internal expanding brakes operated by a hand lever. No better brakes are to be found on any automobile.

Always, in a Chalmers, you have a sense of security which can come only from the realization that the four main factors of safety—frame, wheels, steering connections and brakes—are absolutely all right.

Now would be a good time to place your order.
